ALIEN INVADERS

Greetings, my dear beloved children!

Today I start a new series and its topic for many of you may seem strange and frightening.

Still, I believe that awakened human conscience is ready to accept it.

The expression “what is done by night appears by day” is becoming less metaphoric and more direct.

You must get prepared that due to your rising vibration frequency you will start seeing everybody the way they really are.

And many of you will be shocked by how few there are real human Souls alive around you.

It is high time to tell you who inhabit your Earth, how and why soulless beings have succeeded in enslaving both this beautiful planet and the Divine creatures living on it.

Everything was carried out step by step without being noticed by the humans.

Thousands of years have passed since the Dragons’ civilization got the opportunity to get into human physical bodies and interbreed with human beings.

For this time reptiloids – the Dragons’ product and at the same time their protégés on Earth – have received a huge posterity from Earth women and this race disguised by human body has congested the whole planet, all its countries and continents.

Not a single nation has managed to escape this pitiful lot, for the Dragons guiding these creatures from the subtle level of Earth have the enslaving of ALL THE HUMANITY as their programme.

For this purpose they developed a thorough plan aimed at abolishing of Divine manifestation in human souls.

Many of these creatures being unaware of who they are, by intuition, in truth, by the programme implanted into their conscience by their superiors, chose their spouses and got married to those with the strongest manifestation of the Divine potential that is they tied the knot with the purest and lightest souls.

Why did it happen?

Their invisible “puppeteers” well realized that these pure souls could get awakened from the duality dream and restore their Divinity, which was not what they planned at all.

Their goal was to turn humans into obedient slaves who they could guide and manipulate according to their needs and desires.

And, unfortunately, they have succeeded in putting their insidious plan into practice.

So as to let you better understand the way the humans enslaving mechanism implanted by the Dragons works and learn to identify reptiloids disguised by human bodies in my coming messages I am going to describe the topic in details and innumerate main features for you to reveal the “alien invaders” scattered all over the world.

Here we will stop for today.

HIGH CASTE REPTILOIDS

Today we will go on talking about reptiloids and focus on their peculiarities – their species and subspecies.

Their most distinctive feature is strict hierarchy and unexceptionable obedience.

Carefully developed supervision system applied to reptiloids embodied in human bodies has borne fruit.

Their “generals” from the Dragon race who inhabit the near-earth space have succeeded in introducing their protégés for the posts in almost all vital spheres and structural units of the world community.

For this purpose there have been created a high caste of reptiloids who knew who they are, where they are from and what goals their superiors want them to achieve.

Moreover, they had direct contacts with their “puppeteers” who gave them particular task on introducing the laws, rules and regulations that facilitate the enslaving of human conscience encouraging their fear and obedience.

This way, representatives of high caste reptiloids have gradually taken over the heads of almost all the countries of the world.

It is them governed by the main motto “Divide and rule” who initiated bloody wars, revolutions and religious factions artificially encouraging national conflicts plunging the humanity into energy chaos resulting in human pain and suffering.

Their major goal was to suppress human freedom of will destroying by this their Divine origin.

As religions arose their representatives were often among leading clerics who unleashed religious wars forcing people to kill each other for “God’s” sake but, in truth, for the sake of maintaining their power, profit and control over people.

Step by step high caste reptiloids have managed to lay hands on all the natural resources of the planet, all its power institutions and financial establishments, the religious ones being among them.

The human beings didn’t notice that they had been trapped and they still can’t find the way to break free.

Why did it happen? Why couldn’t people resist this dark force?

The thing is, my dear ones, that unlike humans, these creatures made by the Dragons have no Divine Soul – the one any human possesses, which means they have no idea of what Love, Gratitude and Compassion are.

They go all the lengths moving to their aim and they regard human beings not as living creatures but as means of achieving it.

By the end of the 20th century they have celebrated their total victory, for they have ultimately got their claws into all the natural resources of the planet, its banking system, all the mass media and power institutions, both secular and religious ones.

The invisible government of the planet Earth made up with the high caste reptiloids has settled the fate of all the nations and countries by means of their representatives IN EVERY SINGLE COUNTRY, EVERY SINGLE GOVERNMENT AND EVERY SINGLE CITY.

And if they come across someone trying to introduce the policy for the good of humans they annihilated them mercilessly.

You witnessed national presidents, prominent public figures or simply famous people mysteriously pass away, those capable of influencing human mind and awaken human conscience, those, in a word, who made attempts to get out of “grey eminence” control that has taken over the world.

Unfortunately, things are still where they started but on a smaller scale as the high caste reptiloids in human bodies have become an orphan due to the fact that their superiors, the Dagon race ruling them from the subtle level of Earth, has been beaten hollow by the Higher Forces of the Universe.

ORDINARY REPTILOIDS

Now we will talk about another type of creatures bred by the Dragon race that can roughly be called “ordinary reptiloids” who are present on Earth in huge number.

They, unlike the high caste reptiloids, don't know about their origin and truly believe they are humans.

In fact, each of them is an inseparable part of the “net” made by the reptiloids' progenitors – the Dragons – and it has cloaked the whole planet.

Each of them has the “Render the enemy harmless” programme implanted which means to prevent pure human souls from rising to the spiritual level where they could restore their Divinity.

How is it put in practice?

First of all, following their highly-developed intuition reptiloids find the purest and the lightest, the most faithful and the most unmercenary Souls who can devote their life to the good of others'.

Then, they do their best to tie the knot with them.

Next, as a husband or a wife they carry out the plan of human Soul usurpation dominating them and destroying their personality.

Their inborn intuition gives them a helping hand here too. They find the most effective tools using various tricks and catches that arouse in their spouse fear, guilt or pity, their wit or strength admiration, in a word, the energies consistent with their own vibration frequency.

Reptiloids impose their values on humans, the only values they know – merely practical and material ones.

Exploiting the human Soul's purity and kindheartedness little by little they turn them into their servants who place reptiloid's interests and caring for their needs and desires before anything else forgetting about themselves.

The longer they live together the more the human gets impersonalized descending from the spiritual world they used to live into a merely practical one with no time for any other thoughts except those aimed at meeting the reptiloid's and the family's needs.

Therefore, the main Dragons' goal to enslave the humanity is also applied to any family with a reptiloids among its members.

In addition to this, all false values introduced into human society by the high caste reptiloids and imposed on humans get grass-root support because nearly each family with a member representing the reptiloids race turns into a keen consumer of material benefits a wide range of which is in great supply in the modern society.

This is the reason why the humanity has descended into the third dimension that rapidly.

The Human Gods' conscience has changed so drastically that for the most part they have turned into featureless crowd whose cherished dream is the flesh-pots of Egypt and getting high in the social scale.

And now, my dear ones, it is high time to open your eyes on the way most of you live, for unflattering though the real truth is, it is the only thing that can deliver you from the trap you got into.

HUMAN REPTILOID

Today we will go on talking about reptiloids and this time we will discuss what kind of children are born in mixed marriages of human beings and reptiloids.

The most essential thing here is the emotions both the spouses have at the moment of conception of their child.

If a child is made in love that some reptiloids, who reincarnated in human bodies many times, are still capable of, then a child will be a valid human being with a Divine Soul.

If it is a violent conception or it is a reptiloids who strives for this not a human being, then there arrives a reptiloid.

It is a common case that spouses have even relations with no apparent affection manifestation and there arrive half-breeds, it means humans inhabited by two souls: a Divine human Soul and that of a reptiloid that lacks the Divine origin.

And the number of half-humans and half-reptiloids is huge on Earth nowadays.

It is them who represent the overwhelming majority of population that follow a certain life-style patterns implanted by their reptiloid parent.

And many feel this. This where the expression that any human is simultaneously “the son of God and the son of the devil” comes from.

In truth, not any human but only those whose souls find themselves in such unnatural situation.

At the physical level it is reflected in their behaviour swings – they are always being torn apart by contradicting thoughts, emotions and actions.

Their spiritual impulses are suppressed by “reasonable” considerations, for they are arena of never-ceasing confrontation of the Divine and the material.

The reason for this is that the reptiloid part of their being can exist only by means of MIND while their Divine part is eager to be guided by HEART.

And few are those who are able to bring the two parts to harmony, let alone to evict the reptiloid soul out from the physical body.

So, a lot depends on the relations a child has with their parents and whose influence is dominating: reptiloid’s or human’s one.

And if a reptiloid is fully in charge of the bringing up they will make their copy of their child evicting their Divine Soul.

If a pure lofty soul of a human parent tackles the problem of bringing up and development the reptiloid could be evicted from the child’s body because it would be unable to exist in the high frequency vibrations of the human Soul.

But, unfortunately, my dear ones, this sacred process is so complicated with numerous shades depending on a variety of circumstances that is not easy to reduce it to a common denominator.

The confrontation in a human body can go on as long as one lives or can end with an impetuous victory of one of them.

And the reason why I focus on this is to let you know how complicated is the world you live in and how much depends on you.

You can rescue even those who are half-reptiloids giving them the chance to live a new valid life of a Divine being.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES OF REPTILOIDS

Now I am going to innumerate the features you can trust to identify reptiloids in physical bodies.

While the high caste reptiloids have rather peculiar appearance and they can be easily identified by outward features ordinary reptiloids are very similar to humans.

You will be surprised but, as a rule, they are decent, law-abiding, sympathetic and sound in all respects “people” yet, too material-oriented.

Communication with them always boils down to everyday matters that they have the whole gamut of at their fingers and they can always give you some good “PRACTICAL” advice.

It is not uncommon that they get good education and are well-read and even erudite but since they are connected to certain programmes they are guided in all spheres of life and always follow certain rules and patterns rejecting in an aggressive way anything beyond the common and the generally acknowledged.

They are incapable of extraordinary solutions, illogical actions or doing the things they don't benefit from, it means, they can't BE GUIDED BY HEART.

They are mostly boring and featureless creatures commonly called “pain in the neck”.

They can have strong emotional ties to their family who they totally control and regard as their property.

There are a lot of atheists among them, as God is something abstract and their practical mind can't accept the fact of His existence with no scientifically grounded facts.

But religious fanatics are also numerous among them.

It happens to those brought up under strict religious traditions, which means they have been connected to a certain religious egregor since childhood.

This egregor turns into one more programme governing their conscience that makes them still more impersonalized.

Typically, they ritualize their faith since they lack a Divine Soul, which results in their inability to perceive God by heart.

Reptiloids have a well-developed Ego. They love themselves very much and care for their health. They demand too much attention from people, especially from their family and friends, so they choose those ready to serve them as their spouse.

That is why two reptiloids seldom get well along with each other. By intuition they choose a human being as their partner who is ready to sacrifice and satisfy all the reptiloid's needs.

As far as outward features are concerned, reptiloids can be identified by their eyes.

Their eyes lack the Divine light human eyes irradiate as well as a range of emotional shades they have: tender, affectionate, sad, naughty, playful...

For the most part, reptiloids' eyes are dull and insipid even when they smile or laugh.

Their movements lack the grace typical of humans.

Their behaviour and gestures are standard just the way their thoughts and emotions are.

The programme implanted in them shows in everything.

It is impossible to say about reptiloids that they are interesting, bright or outstanding personalities.

More often they are ordinary, standard and dull.

Reptiloids are sure to have changed for many incarnations in human bodies but they keep their major features unchanged being connected to one and the same programme designed by their superiors.

ENERGY VAMPIRISM PROGRAMME

Today I would like to focus on the energy aspect of your interaction with reptiloids.

As you have already understood from my previous messages these creatures, indistinguishable in outward appearance from humans, have no Divine Soul and, consequently, possess quite different vibration frequency.

In terms of energy they are much weaker than humans and that's the reason why they constantly need energy inflow to survive in this world.

They get this inflow by all means available from the people around them.

In fact, they "feed" on human energy. And the greater the number of people surrounding them is, the better they feel.

A crowd or energy chaos turns into a real feast for them.

But it is low frequency energy that is their slice of the cake.

Therefore, they make the most of all the tools at hand to initiate this kind of energy generation by their side or in their environment.

People suffer from this a lot because they often don't understand their behaviour, they become tired of long idle talks on boring and unpleasant topics or of their picking quarrels up from the ground.

The thing is that reptiloids find uncomfortable living in the high frequency energy of Love and harmony that are discordant to their own ones and they start tormenting people with faultfinding, critical remarks and insult in order to provoke powerful negative energy release they need.

It is reptiloids who are the most powerful energy vampires.

They do this unconsciously as a part of the implanted programme of surviving on Earth.

So, my dear ones, what should you do if there are reptiloids in your environment?

How to protect yourselves from energy vampirism?

Before all, make sure you are energy protected as often as possible, which will safeguard you from their attacks.

Moreover, you should make it a rule to ignore their biting and stinging remarks now being aware of what they are caused by.

Let their poisoning “arrows” fly to the winds passing through your rarified Divine subtle bodies.

Try to find the way that suits you most to whittle away all their attempts “to get charged” with your energy.

The most efficient way will be your UNCONVENTIONAL RESPOND to all their stinging and biting remarks.

This is what puzzles them because they have got used to living according to certain programmes and think in a standard way.

And if you act not the way they expect they will get confused and droop not knowing how to react.

Be creative, my dear ones, show keen and quick wit so as to protect yourselves from unwelcome intrusion of hostile energy into you aura.

Children who find themselves in a reptiloid environment have the hardest time.

They can't safeguard their energy space, so they just submissively supply the vampire with energy.

Do your best, my dear ones, to protect your children until they mature and can manage it themselves.

Simply imagine you set up energy protection for them just the way you do it for yourselves.

REPTILOIDS COMMUNITY STRUCTURE

Today I will try to describe the structure of the net that reptiloids have weaved around Earth, which was spoken about in my first message.

In fact, it is a very complex multistage, multilevel and multidimensional programme developed by the Dragon civilization so as there is not an inch unsupervised by reptiloids.

And they have been a success in this.

To help you visualize this you can imagine the globe covered in a net of bee's cells.

Inside a big bee cell there are many smaller ones.

Inside the smaller ones there are still smaller ones and so on and so forth...

So, each hexahedron represents a reptiloids community unit.

Six biggest hexahedrons containing all the rest are the high caste of reptiloids who rule the destiny of the world.

The hexahedrons' vertices are the embodied reptiloids' souls that are six per unit.

The lines connecting them are energy "seal" holding them together.

Consequently, any reptiloid embodied on Earth has energy connection to all their hierarchs.

In order to supervise all the Earth's population reptiloids embody in various strata of society but they are especially numerous in science and religion, for they are able to influence human conscience to a greater extent.

Science was initially designed to eradicate the image of the world and the Universe being Divine and substitute it for another – earthly and material one.

The same way religion, that at first sight seems to be somewhat science's counterbalance, leads humans away from God but in a different manner.

Nearly all world religions separate humans from God making a judge of Him, a master of destinies, somebody distant, mysterious and out-of-reach for mere mortals.

Not a single religion says that a human being is God's particle and, therefore, a Human God.

That is why religious fanatics are as far from God as scientific atheists.

Both of them are programmes carefully designed by the high caste reptiloids and aimed at enslaving human conscience.

The grains of true knowledge that great Souls embodied tried to share with people were suppressed in every possible way or, on the contrary, scoffed and regarded as sedition.

All this was performed by the cell units' representatives of all levels sealed fast together that like electric wires conveyed to the world the energy and information that reptiloids needed.

Reptiloids of all sorts, just like bees, brought to the cells their prey– human energies generated by the Dragon-transformed human conscience.

At present these cells are overflowed and on Earth there is a tiny group of people who have managed to avoid reptiloids' net and to preserve their Divine Soul.

ENSLAVING PROGRAMME IN ACTION

Today we will go on discussing the structure created by reptiloids on Earth but this time we will focus not on its energy component but on the physical one and learn how they implement their programmes.

So, we start with the high caste reptiloids who are action and programme “legislators” for the rest of this race’s representatives lower at the hierarchy ladder.

It is this caste that is the cruelest and the most cynical one setting at naught both human’s life and human’s dignity.

Their only aim is profiteering and they turn humans into the means and tools for achieving their goal.

So as to ultimately submit human will they, first of all, engender in human Soul fear and separation that are the main attributes of the dual life.

The principle “Divide and rule” was introduced into all strata of society.

But reptiloids themselves show astonishing integrity being “sealed” by one and the same programme and energy.

They feel each other from a distance and they divide the world into “ins and outs”.

This is how clan system arose on the planet still redoubling reptiloids’ control over humans who they were separating more and more using such dual world’s tricks as envy, jealousy, false pride, fear and guilt – in short, a whole lot of negative energies that have always been at their disposal in an amazing variety.

The high caste reptiloids have always kept their race pure and have abstained from crossbreeding with humans being aware that it can result in their business grip weakening, for human Divine Soul with Love, Gratitude and Compassion so typical of

It couldn't agree to take that cruel and inhuman measures in order to achieve their goals while reptiloids are capable of doing this with no regret.

Yet, humans have always known by intuition that these creatures are different from them to a great extent.

Subconsciously they rejected them at the energy level – those alien to humans, reserved practical and self-seeking “people” keeping aloof – which often developed into real physical persecution in almost all countries of the world.

The disclosing made high caste reptiloids furious and they nursed revenge plans implementing them step by step.

Thus, they have taken over the world financial system by the end of the 19th century and the golden calf worshipped by reptiloids carried on ruling the world and causing humans' bloodshed and suffering.

This is them who unleashed and unleash wars, revolutions and national conflicts round the globe and, by means of money, promote their representatives for the key posts placing and displacing different countries' presidents their own way.

This is them who guide the world economy arranging crises and recoveries of the financial systems in different countries of the world.

It is them who submit millions of people worldwide into dependency with loans at interest just as their ancestors money-lenders did.

They realize quite well that humans' financial dependence from them make them sole masters of the planet Earth.

Eventually, they have achieved everything they strived for: money, power and total control over humans.

WORLDWIDE WEB

So, let's go on discussing the way runs reptiloids' humans enslaving programme.

At the end of the 19th – the beginning of the 20th century there were developed unprecedented cutting-edge technologies which was caused by the reptiloids' growing appetite as they were not satisfied with what they achieved by transforming human conscience to the obedient crowd of featureless material values consumers.

They made up their mind to institute total control over every single person so as to literally turn humans into their slaves.

For this purpose the best human minds have been involved and the worldwide web – the INTERNET – has been developed.

Under this attractive mask reptiloids can implant into human conscience whatever they like.

It took them as little as several decades to get most of the humanity to the Internet “needle”.

So many people are not able to do without it.

But reptiloids got still farther creating SOCIAL NETWORK SITES that enable them to follow every step of unsuspecting users and to get access to all their personal data.

Being unaware of it millions of people around the globe have got caught into the high caste reptiloids’ “web”.

Inspired by a variety of feelings people post miscellaneous information about their life on their pages at social network sites: about their family and travel as well as pictures of their relatives and friends.

For many it has turned into a life style, a reality escape or a self-affirmation tool.

Not realizing what energy is and being unaware of the fact there is no time and distance for it, unintentionally people mortally endanger themselves and their children posting in the net numerous pictures and stories about their life that become accessible for strangers.

And when in an inconceivable way they get into trouble with their job, health, their personal life gets ruined or their children fall ill they don’t understand they fell victim to strangers’ envious looks irradiating them with negative energy flows.

The thing that is commonly known as “hex” or “vile envy” is actually a powerful negative energy discharge penetrating subtle bodies of a human and “laying down” at the physical level as diseases and problems.

It is social network sites that have become permanent nourishment source for reptiloids who are good at all humans’ weak points and toy with naivety and credulity of some people and with envy and pride of the others.

But their most horrible crime is creation of the sites arousing brute human passions.

These are porno sites, games inspiring aggression and violence, internet-casino, sites offering witchcraft services and so on and so forth.

Therefore, the Internet is sucking humans more and more into duality giving them no chance to spare a minute to look around and see real life, listen to themselves, think about why they were born and what their mission is.

Reptiloids have achieved their target in turning humans into obedient consumers of the things the Internet, not their own Divine Soul, has to offer with the latter one forgotten about by many people by now.

TECHNICAL PROGRESS AT REPTILOIDS' SERVICE

Today we will go on discussing how reptiloids took the advantage of the human technical progress.

The things many people on Earth can't do without, such as cell phones and GPS navigators, have become new reptiloids' tools of exercising control over each owner of these electronic devices.

Every year they update them over and over again, which enables them to easily trace all human communication and travel.

But they are not satisfied with this.

They have gone farther and developed chipping system that allows them not simply control people but make direct influence on their conscience.

Why have I made up my mind to reveal all the truth about their actions right now?

Firstly, because the information about this is already being spread by the mass media but it is introduced in the way many people regard it as the height of the technological progress and rush to enjoy the benefits of the advertised "convenience" of ubiquitously implanted chips.

These people don't understand they ruin their Divine Soul as they throw themselves on the mercy of the alien to the humanity reptiloid race.

Secondly, I see that collective human conscience is ready to accept the unusual information like this.

They will accept it not by mind but by heart and Soul that are sure of its validity.

Thirdly, if humans don't realize now the dangerous trap they got caught by reptiloids the Higher Powers and I will have nobody to rescue.

By means of generally introduced chipping reptiloids will be able to ultimately transform human conscience robbing them this way of their Soul connection that is the only one capable of leading their way to the Ascension.

Fourthly, it is necessary to stop mass psychosis related to the Internet that – for reptiloids' "convenience" – is currently introduced into each cell phone totally enslaving humans.

The overwhelming majority "live" in their phones and computers taking no notice of anyone or anything around them.

They even get acquainted by means of the net depriving themselves of natural communication and choose their partners taking into consideration practical issues of different kinds considering a person's questionnaire not a living human Soul.

Fifthly, nowadays when Earth has attained to a new vibration frequency pure human Souls being at the same frequency with the planet start seeing the subtle world.

They may be frightened by this world because they will understand how few there are HUMANS left on Earth.

They will start seeing reptiloids and clones disguised in human bodies and having no Soul and it can hurt them deeply, for among these creatures they will recognize many of their relatives, friends and acquaintances.

And if it happens to you I would like you not to get scared but ACCEPT their existence as something unavoidable and as the living forms diversity on Earth realizing that they also have a right for life and that many reptiloids of the lower level don't want to do you any harm.

They are also victims of conscience programming by the high caste reptiloids.

Even in the situation like this, my dear ones, you should behave the way Divine beings do being full of Love and compassion to any creature in existence.

But alongside with this you shouldn't let anyone enslave you. So you must know the truth about current events on Earth.

DIVIDE AND RULE

Please, take my today's message very seriously, for it concerns the people who have already taken the road of the Ascension and whose Souls have arrived on Earth just for this.

Reptiloids are sure to know about current changes on the planet and they see that quite a large part of the awakened population get out of their control, moreover, they lead the way for the others.

When they realized that it is impossible to stop the process they decided to use the usual method – to head it.

And they have almost succeeded in this.

Reptiloids started to embed their protégés into existing structures and create new “spiritual” movements, organizations, esoteric groups, sites, portals and so on in order to lead people away from the true path.

Now I will enumerate the features for you to trust in identifying the movements supposed to lead to the Ascension that are headed by nobody else but reptiloids.

First. Establishing of groups, movements, societies, communities – in short, any mass organization.

This is one of the main attributes that duality world features.

Reptiloids are well aware that in order to keep human conscience submitted it is necessary to unite people in groups where it will be easy for them to trace the process and run it in their own way.

Second. Authoritarian organization's head.

The reptiloid in head of the organization demands strict discipline of their “subordinates” as well as obeying all their orders and following all the instructions.

Third. Hierarchy approach.

Living according to a certain programme and sticking to a hierarchy approach they can't imagine any other life styles.

That is why within their movements they set a strict hierarchy appointing heads of large and small subdivisions and demanding unconditional subjection of them.

Fourth. “Divide and rule” principle.

In the organizations established by them this main reptiloids' principle gives rise to the lowest human emotions: envy, jealousy, offence, false pride and hurt pride, in other words, it creates the atmosphere with no place for spirituality which was supposedly the aim of setting such organizations.

Fifth. Personality cult.

The head of the movement turns into an idol for the rest of its members, their unconditional authority and the role model whose words are accepted as ultimate truth by the ordinary participants.

Reptiloids' cunning and resourceful mind enable them to find out humans' weak points and catch them on the raw.

Then carefully touching them either gently and softly or powerfully and fearfully they can achieve the total subordination from humans.

Sixth. Nationalism.

They openly declare the advantage of one nation over another, which results in separation and violates one of the main Laws of the Universe.

Seventh. Double-facedness.

Depending on the situation and the person they deal with, their partner's social or hierarchy status, to be exact, reptiloids' behaviour changes.

Due to the fact that reptiloids took over the spiritual aspect of life they have managed to trap hundreds of thousands human souls who have already headed for the Ascension.

Using sweet words about spirituality and the idea of the movement's participants' being chosen as a cover for misleading humans into the good old duality, they crush freedom of will in the buds as people's conscience is totally inferior to the movement's head.

But the saddest thing is that reptiloids shield with my name and those of the Higher Powers' of the Universe who they supposedly channel their messages from.

This is what they use as their trump card and tool for human conscience submission.

So, please, my dear ones, don't leave the straight and narrow at the very last minute, don't let anyone misdirect you from the true road leading to the Ascension!

Don't rise to reptiloids' flies!

Listen ONLY to your Soul that will never deceive you!

I bless you and deeply love you!

DEMAND GENERATES SUPPLY

So, let's go on discussing how reptiloids succeeded in penetrating the spheres alien to them, such as those of spiritual development and the Ascension of Earth.

The thing is that they are always sensitive to the current state of affairs in any sphere of life.

And since "demand" for everything connected with the Ascension of Earth has been increasing with every single day they start delivering their "supply".

But as soon as the practical issue of life has always been treated by them on a priority basis, they also try to run their "business" so as to benefit from it.

Being experts on human psychology they know people would love to get the desired making no efforts.

So, they set services going, such as subtle bodies cleansing, witchcraft deliverance, karma nulling, available chakras activation and new ones opening, "talks" to the Higher being and Spiritual guards and even ... selling "permit" to the renewed Earth.

In truth, nobody can ever do your spiritual work for you even if "this help" turns out to be useful for some time, with no efforts of yours everything will come back where it was.

But this is exactly what reptiloids aim at: to prevent humans from spiritual growth and benefit from this at the same time.

It is worth mentioning that astral beings of all levels have always been reptiloids' assistants.

This cooperation has always been mutually beneficial: reptiloids are brilliant at touching the right humans' souls' chords giving rise to the low frequency energies they feed on and sharing their "prey" with astral beings of all kinds.

This cohesion of the astral world with the reptiloid race has turned out to be fateful in the history of the humanity.

By their united efforts they have almost succeeded in rending humans "harmless" forcing them to the very bottom of duality, making them forget about their Divine origin, about freedom of will and self-expression – in a word, they have impersonalized people turning them into obedient marionettes.

That is why, my dear ones, I repeat it over and over again: if someone offers you spiritual knowledge for money and ready-made solutions in such a sacred process as the Ascension, do know it is done by the one whose aim is not to help you but, just on the contrary, to prevent your spiritual growth.

The one who sincerely wants to support you can just share the knowledge and experience they have and teach you to live according to the Laws of the Universe, which will encourage your vibration frequency rise, your conscience and physical body transformation, that is will lead you to the true path towards the Ascension.

DEFEAT “THE DRAGON”

Today we will discuss how reptiloids influence those having beside the Divine Soul a fragment of a reptiloid soul.

As I have already mentioned in one of my previous messages these people are numerous on Earth as they were born in mixed marriages of reptiloids and humans.

These humans are a lot of trouble for reptiloids because their programmes can't totally control them.

A human Soul that is fated to neighbour on a reptiloid soul stands up to this in any possible way.

Therefore, reptiloids do their best to put such people in the material-dominated environment where, in order to survive, they will have to make use of their practical skills which their reptiloid part is good at.

And in this struggle for survival humans have neither time nor strength for the spiritual development, self-knowledge or creative potential realization.

Alternatively, they can choose another tool and help them to become rich and then enjoying every conceivable pleasure they forget about their Divine Soul.

How can reptiloids accomplish this task?

For this purpose they draw in pureblooded reptiloids who by means of programmes they are connected to start “guiding” these humans keeping an eye on them.

They can even become their spouse to influence them to a full extent.

Reptiloids try to worm into their confidence and to make “friends” with them so as to know everything about their life, dreams and wishes and to adjust them in their own way.

They can also be bosses, colleagues, neighbours or simply chance fellow travelers in some period of life.

Anyway, they will try to impose their views and values on humans criticizing and scoffing at anything out of practical application and material-dominated life scope.

They are “the people” who bring humans “back to earth” and “clip their wings” to make them pass in a crowd instead of perceiving oneself as a unique, self-sufficient person resembling nobody else.

I am sure that many of you have come across situations like this a lot of times.

Believe my word, in most cases they were the reptiloids on the watch of human souls preventing them from restoring their Divinity.

How can you, my dear ones, oppose this kind of influence?

I think it will not be very difficult to do this because you have learnt to perceive other people’s vibrations, which means you will not let anyone draw you into talks that are known to be idle and useless for you and will not let anyone impose an alien life style on you.

Still, I would like to give you some advice.

With such people behave in a polite, careful way, peacefully avoiding the talk you are not interested in, especially if you know who you are dealing with.

Astral beings “suite” of a reptiloid are looking forward to your generating into the world at least one negative emotion in a weak moment.

Then they will try to blow this “sparkle” into a fire and your argument will grow into a real energy battle that is hard for you to win.

Keep your energy space pure, my dear ones. Nowadays it is important as ever.

I bless you and deeply love you!

A WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING

Today we will discuss an issue that is rather painful for many of you and I would like you to read this message with open heart and pure Soul fully accepting the idea of every living being on Earth having a right to live.

We are going to speak about those who suddenly realized that there are reptiloids among their family and friends.

It can be really painful for those who realized that their wife, husband or child belongs to this category.

And there are many people like this among you because it is you – ancient pure and lofty Souls – who they have got attracted to.

I dictated my previous messages not to frighten you or cause your feeling hostile towards reptiloids but to let you know the actual state of things on Earth and to help you learn to behave the right way.

First of all, I would like to mention that high caste reptiloids are almost impossible to come across in usual life as they keep aloof.

Reptiloids that are likely to be in your environment are the so-called “rank and file” ones who are victims themselves because their conscience is “supervised” from above and they act in accordance with certain programmes of the corresponding level.

As a rule, in everyday life they are decent law-abiding and loving their family “people” by extremely practical and unreceptive to any spiritual knowledge.

And they are sure to choose you for a partner not by chance: following the programme implanted into their conscience they have “to bring you back to earth” all the time which they have been doing during all your life together trying to limit your thoughts and actions to material-dominated, practical, sphere.

But try considering it from another angle: how strong, brave, wise and loving your Souls should be so as to make that difficult choice – life with a reptiloid!

Not everyone is able to overcome such an obstacle towards Light but those reading the message have managed to do it.

And now when you know how complicated the world is and how “densely populated” every single niche is you shouldn't become embittered to your partner starting blaming them of the things they are innocent of.

Just the opposite, you should feel sympathetic keeping in mind that “a man can do no more than he can” and that their conscience doesn’t belong to them.

On the other hand, you can’t let a reptiloid control your conscience either. You should stick to the path your Soul has chosen securing It against being enslaved by whoever it may be.

So, if both of you are happy with your life together you should just keep your family hearth carefully avoiding rough edges or discussing contradicting issues.

In other words, you will have “to go underground” not giving reptiloids complete control over your inner world and not letting them criticize the things that are sacred for you.

And let your reptiloid husband or wife go on dealing with the practical issues of the family, which is familiar and usual for them while you should feel grateful that due to them you can manage your time in favour of your spiritual life.

Try to find the proper balance in your relations and create the atmosphere where each member could indulge in their hobbies respecting other members’ interests at the same time.

I hope, my dear ones, for your wisdom, patience and Love that will enable you to find the best way out of any situation to the highest good of all.

WISHES AND ABILITIES

Today I would like to go on discussing the way you should behave if you have discovered reptiloids in your environment or even in yourself, which can also happen with many of you.

I would like you to understand better their essence and the reasons they are driven by in different spheres of life.

As a matter of fact, having lived side by side with humans for centuries a lot of reptiloids are dreaming of getting a human Soul just now when with the rising vibrations of Earth and people the latter get access to the limitless opportunities.

So, they would like to turn into Gods, not to remain someone else’s will’s tools.

But here they are also guided by practical considerations, for having no Divine Soul they are unable of DISINTERESTED deeds and the only reason why they are eager to get a human Soul is to acquire still more opportunities for their dreams and wishes to come true.

This is why a lot of reptiloids are interested in the current changes on the planet, visit esoteric sites and participate in various “spiritual” movements.

But unlike humans they simply can’t perceive the knowledge to a full extent.

No matter how much they read on spiritual topics or how long they meditate they can’t hear their Higher being since they don’t possess any.

Seeing their strong desire for the subtle world communication some astral beings start contacting them assuming the names of the Higher Powers of the Universe.

Unfortunately, in consistency with their vibrations they are the only ones who can get attracted to these creatures disguised by human bodies.

Therefore, this “spirituality” game brings them back to the low frequency vibration world so usual for them.

Moreover, due to their origin reptiloids can’t perceive by their heart and soul the knowledge that has no practical and material foundation.

Since they can’t hear their inner voice they either reject the knowledge incomprehensible for them or become fanatics of something or somebody having their conscience guided over and over again and getting connected to one more programme or egregor, which is being on their ground.

Like humans, reptiloids also differ from each other, for they are born into different families and countries, brought up in different traditions and social strata.

Still, they have got one feature in common – their practical habit of mind and inability to accept new proofless knowledge.

As for fanaticism typical of many of them, it is also a programme and within its limits they are at home whereas independent opinion contradicting the generally accepted one and based exceptionally on one’s own INNER FEELINGS turns out to be something inconceivable for them.

Everything I mentioned above applies to the pureblooded reptiloids and the things are quite different with human reptiloids, those inhabited by two souls – a human soul and a reptiloid one.

They have chance to keep only their Divine Soul ultimately driving the reptiloid part out.

And I am going to tell you about this in my next message.

ENERGY INTERACTION OF REPTILOIDS AND HUMANS

Today we will discuss the energy “design” of reptiloids and their main difference from humans.

They possess quite a different chakra system – a curtailed one.

Their subtle sense organs are limited to the four lower chakras.

The fourth chakra is the limit a pureblooded reptiloid can't go beyond while perceiving the world around them.

Still, it differs greatly from the heart chakra of a human being and there are some reasons for that.

While human beings have this chakra connected with the higher Divine aspects – the third eye chakra and the crown one – due to which they are capable of Unconditional uninterested love, reptiloids' love features acquisition and profit.

All their thoughts and emotions can't go beyond the bounds of the programme they are connected to, that is PRACTICAL approach even to notions such as love.

This is why a clan structure is so typical of pureblooded reptiloids as well as dividing everybody into “ins and outs”.

They can love only those they are connected with in terms of energy at the subtle level, yet this love also differs greatly from love of humans.

Their love is that of an owner based on total submission of their beloved and control over them.

They can “love” humans as long as the latter are of any practical interest to them.

They treat humans in a condescending and even contemptuous manner because of their unpractical behaviour and regard it as foolishness.

At the same time they shamelessly exploit this “foolishness” of pure human souls.

In terms of energy reptiloid-human interaction looks like this.

A human being acts as an energy donor as they voluntarily give reptiloids energy at the subtle level and fruit of their labour at the physical level.

Reptiloids take all these gifts for granted not even sending the energy of gratitude back.

In other words, they behave the way a master does towards their servants.

This is exactly the human interaction pattern that was initially specified by their programme.

Humans, on the contrary, initially had the Divine programme of Unconditional Love.

So, a pure human Soul, and especially the one that has overgrown the 3D world limits and raised its conscience up till the fourth and even Fifth dimension, lives according to the Divine Laws generously sharing with everybody around their knowledge, energy and Love.

And reptiloids shamelessly take advantage of these humans' generosity and often misappropriate their knowledge, achievements and discoveries thinking they don't even have to thank them in word and deed.

It has been like this throughout the history of reptiloids and humans living side by side on Earth.

30

But now the situation has reached its climax and humans should eventually learn the actual state of things and realize that there are some other creatures neighbouring them whose NON-Divine origin doesn't allow them to live according to the Universal Laws.

Yet, humans shouldn't get embittered with reptiloids or revengeful on them generating this way the energy they feed on.

You should learn to find a compromise dealing with them and, which is most important, to protect yourselves from these creatures preventing them from devastating you both physically and in terms of energy.

Here we will stop for today.

CONFLICT OF OPPOSITES

Now when you know about energy peculiarities of reptiloids we pass over to the next topic: “How to defeat the Dragon in yourself” in case of people who have found out that their physical body is inhabited by two souls – a Divine human Soul and a reptiloid soul.

As I have already mentioned, these people born in mixed marriages of reptiloids and humans are abundant on the planet.

And now I will enumerate the features to rely on in identifying such people and, may be, you can find some of the features in yourself.

First. While communicating with them you feel ill at ease for no conceivable reasons.

Even if they are nice and friendly smiling people they seem to be lacking something.

And the thing they lack is sincere warmth and open-heartedness typical of pure human Souls.

Their smile appears to be “trademark grin”, automated and strained.

31

It happens because upper chakras energy of a human Soul is suppressed by a reptiloid soul neighbouring it – it simply can’t exist in those high vibrations and protects itself in every possible way.

This never ceasing energy confrontation prevents them from spiritual growth, activating their upper chakras, revealing their best human features and merging with their Higher and Divine being.

Second. Contradictory behaviour.

They are always different as if there are two persons living inside them.

As a matter of fact, it is true. There is really a human and a reptiloid living inside them and they always fight for their physical medium.

They are cramped in one body and each of them would like to get rid of the unwelcome neighbour.

At the physical plane it is reflected in mood, wishes and behaviour swings.

They lack a solid core that allows them to live in peace and harmony and this causes them feel uncomfortable and those by their side feel the same.

Third. They lack self-confidence.

They are torn apart by inconceivable contradictions.

In some incredible way practical mind in them goes together with squandering, friendliness with hostility, sincerity with hypocrisy.

They suffer themselves from this wide range of various thoughts and emotions that result in their feeling diffident.

Fourth. They long for spirituality but there is always something restraining them.

It seems to them that life is full of traps preventing their spiritual growth.

Actually, the reptiloid soul existing in them restrain their development, for human's rising vibration frequency is a nail in their coffin.

Fifth. They are unlucky in their private life.

And it happens because people feel ill at ease next to them due to their unexpected behaviour, unbalanced character and endless contradictions.

So, little by little reptiloids have managed to create a new race of half-humans or half-reptiloids who are much easier to control than pure Divine human Souls.

DELIVERANCE FROM REPTILOID SOUL

Today we have reached the most important point: we are going to speak about ways of deliverance from reptiloid presence in a human body where a pure Divine Soul neighbours a reptiloid one.

What are conditions necessary for that to happen?

Certainly, it can be carried out if a human being is fully aware of it.

Since Earth and human vibration frequencies are increasing dramatically, it is before long that humans will be able to see reptiloids hiding in human bodies.

It will resemble the picture developed on photographic paper when submerged in a special solution.

The same way reptiloid souls finding themselves in high frequency vibrations irradiated by humans will show themselves at the physical level.

This is the reason why I tell you in details about these creatures so that their presence in your life will not cause any fear in you.

You should accept them as unavoidable neighbours and treat them the way that can't bring any harm to you and to them.

As you have already understood, “ordinary” reptiloids are hostages hold by their hierarchs who make use of them “blindly” and the sufferings they cause humans are not their own ill will but a programme all the reptiloids are connected to and they can't get rid of it on their own.

But a human who has two souls as fate willed has all the opportunities to change the situation in favour of their human Divine Soul.

Advancing in spiritual development and therefore raising their vibration frequency humans can evict the reptiloid from their body as they simply can't exist in high vibrations alien to them.

The following thing happens to the evicted reptiloid soul in this case.

For some time it remains nearby its usual physical medium making the most of every opportunity to reduce the human's vibration frequency so as to get back into their body.

They are assisted by some astral beings creating the life circumstances to provoke low vibration frequency thoughts, emotions and actions.

So, if they manage to drag the human back into the 3D world the reptiloid soul will get a chance to return into its usual body.

If they don't, they set off to search for a new physical medium.

Sometimes it gets into a dying pureblooded reptiloid whose soul has already left and revives them in a “miracle” way.

More often it goes where all reptiloid souls find themselves after their death: either in the astral world to wait for a chance to embody on Earth, which is typical of ordinary reptiloids, or to the terrestrial space of the Dragons' planet, which concerns reptiloid souls that have already moved to the high hierarchy level. Then these souls will be able to embody on their native planet.

As you see, my dear ones, human-reptiloids have an opportunity to gain the only pure Divine Soul and everything depends on their desire – their free will.

These days a lot of people have managed to “defeat the Dragon in themselves” and the number of them will be increasing with every single year.

This process is especially rapid in case of children born from a reptiloid and a human who after birth find themselves in high frequency vibrations of new Earth that enable their pure souls to get rid of the unwelcome neighbours in the shortest possible time.

My dear ones, please, don't be afraid if you find such a soul in yourself.

Keep on moving towards your target surely and calmly maintaining a harmonious state, which also means high frequency vibrations that will gradually force the unwanted lodger out.

I bless you and deeply love you!

CLONES

Now when you have a clear understanding of what reptiloids are and in what way they differ from humans I would like to cover one more topic connected with their evil deeds on Earth.

34

This time we are going to discuss gene-modified creatures that appear in hundreds of thousands on your planet.

To produce them reptiloids got the best human minds and the cutting-edge technologies in service.

Let's consider what gene-modified “humans” are.

To cut a long story short, they are biorobots or clones, as they are often called.

Reptiloids are the only ones capable of getting such an appalling idea as that of cloning human beings, which is making creatures lacking a Divine particle that is any human's essence, their Soul, their most precious treasure.

Your mass media present cloning as a scientific breakthrough being tested but in reality it was turned into flow production long ago in numerous laboratories of reptiloids in different corners of the planet.

This is how it is carried out in practice.

Method 1.

Since reptiloids are numerous in medicine, the field they penetrated persistently and systematically so as to influence humans by all means available, high caste reptiloids have managed to introduce their protégés into the field and they have got access to frozen ovules that are widely used nowadays all over the world for artificial impregnation.

They modify an ovule's gene to make it comply with the programme of this creature's conscience subordination to their "masters" and after that they embed the ovule into a reptiloid woman's body.

Why does it have to be a reptiloid woman?

A fetus like this won't "take root" in a human and will be rejected as an alien object in terms of energy, yet they are working to solve this problem as well.

Moreover, only reptiloids can bring up a clone in a way "appropriate" for them and get them connected to their programme in addition to the one "installed" in a clone initially.

What is the aim they pursue?

Before all, it is producing slaves in a pure form.

Whereas human conscience and even half-humans and half-reptiloids conscience control causes the high caste reptiloids a lot of problems as a Divine particle inside any human shows itself preventing reptiloids from total control of human conscience, clones are dolls to control to a full extent in one's own way installing the programmes to one's liking.

For reptiloids it is essential nowadays as with rising vibration frequency of humans they are losing control over them more and more and they have to find new servants and new nourishment sources.

Reptiloids have worked out a clear-cut scheme of clone distribution all around the globe introducing them IN EACH AND EVERY COUNTRY IN EACH AND EVERY LIFE SPHERE OF SOCIETY.

These creatures can have an attractive appearance as their "parents" have learnt to give them perfect looks which are rare among humans.

It is these perfect looks with no drawbacks that make it easy to identify them. In this sense reptiloids "have overdone it": it is difficult for them to compete with natural diversity and its easy beauty.

Their clones are standard and doll-like and many people intuitively feel this lack of soul and artificiality that they can't even explain to themselves.

What are the programmes reptiloids install on clones?

Just the same they initially had themselves but in a more concentrated form as they feel that they are losing their ground with the rising vibration frequency of Earth and it is getting harder and harder to keep human conscience within duality frames, which results in energy deficiency for reptiloids.

Therefore, clones are products and at the same time extension of their creators and the programmes they have installed depend on the hierarchy level of reptiloids they are introduced to.

Lower caste reptiloids' clones are used as cheap labour while high caste reptiloids' ones are designed to impose on humans artificial and alien for them values – in appearance, fashion and life style.

It is them who provoke humans to resort to plastic surgery in an attempt to impersonalize them and make humans look like one of their own.

It is them who have taken over the world of fashion and force people to hunt after certain makes of clothes, cars, watches, jewellery, etc.

It is them who advertise “prettied up” life style making people meet certain standards in everything and prove this way their validity and success.

As a matter of fact, the one and only aim of clones creation is to prevent people from thinking about spirituality, life sense and their true mission and to mislead their thoughts and emotions into the direction beneficial for reptiloids.

METHODS OF CLONING

Well, let's go on speaking about clones and study some more methods of their production.

Method 2.

This is producing a perfectly new creature out of a human cell. This method is in high demand among reptiloids as it is absolutely safe.

All over the world there are hundreds of secret laboratories churning out such clones.

How are they introduced into society?

Such creatures keep the genetic memory of humans whose DNA they originate from but it has some programmes installed – those required by reptiloids in a specified time in a specified region of the world.

They are A1 specialists in these technologies and it is almost impossible to tell the copy from the original.

In case of an outstanding personality making impact on hundreds of thousands of human minds or a person they are going to appoint for a post in high rank authorities in one country or another they shamelessly get rid of “the original” changing it for the copy.

And they have really succeeded in this. Clones produced by them have been put for high offices in science, medicine, world financial institutions, international organizations, authorities of many countries worldwide and even in religious communities.

Reptiloids- puppeteers supervise every single step of their puppets as their conscience is in total submission to their producers.

You have probably noticed how inconceivably long the representatives of high caste reptiloids live – it sometimes seems they are immortal.

Actually, they passed away long ago but their caste fellows or their relatives find it advantageous for themselves not to make these influential “people’s” death public and they have replaced them with clones produced beforehand who are totally obedient to the younger members of the clan.

And only when they decide that it is high time to report their death they kill the clone and arrange spectacular funerals.

And, eventually, method 3.

Now it is used more and more widely and is especially popular with reptiloids.

There are being established whole incubators for clone-children who are brought up in a corresponding way and they are introduced into society as cheap work force supposed to drive humans away in all spheres of life.

From the very “birth” they have a microchip implanted into their body and it contains a programme that can be changed by their producers with simple button pressing on their computer.

This method has gained a wide popularity in densely populated regions of Asia, Africa and Latin America – where human conscience is totally submitted to the dual world concept with raging poverty and survival instinct as the beginning and the end of everything.

Within the current decade reptiloids have been doing their best to impose chipping system, both apparent and concealed, on the society of so far free humans.

That is why, my dear ones, please, be cautious and don't get caught into hidden traps set at every turn and advertised as “convenient” chip having.

Keep pure your Soul and your Divine conscience!

I bless you and deeply love you!

LIFE IN ALL ITS DIVERSITY

Today I would like to summarize the series of my messages on reptiloids.

38

I see that many of you have taken the messages in different ways: for some people the information came as a shock and they were scared by it, for others it resulted in aggression and the desire to act the way you are used to in the dual world – the enemy is identified and should be defeated.

Yet, my dear ones, neither of the approaches can be right.

While dictating these messages I was pursuing the only aim – to show you how diverse the world is and that it is inhabited by various creatures as well as let you know about the gist of the things going on so that you will not go to extremes - not to descend to the low frequency energy of fear, hatred, aggression, censure...

Are lower caste reptiloids to blame that they were created by their superiors the way they are?

What about clones? Did they ask anyone to produce them?

Both the former and the latter are products of the Dragon race, simply tools at their disposal.

The string of evil deeds initiated on Earth several thousand years ago has eventually transformed into a heavy chain forging together both the enslaved humanity and their enslavers.

Both of them are suffering to the equal extent.

The former suffer because they have lost their freedom and Divine conscience, their Soul purity, while the latter suffer because all their efforts have turned out to be in vain and Earth is getting rid of them as inhabitants unworthy living here as it is rising higher and higher to the dimensions with no place for low frequency vibrations they live in.

So, how should you take this information and how should you behave if you realized that some of your family, friends, colleagues and simply strangers are reptiloids, half-reptiloids or clones?

My dear ones, try to treat them as the grand performance participants taking place all over the world.

And up to the standard of the genre in the play there are good and bad characters: villains and their servants, masters and slaves, open friendly people and cunning resourceful reptiloids, the “half-blood” torn apart by contradictions and robots disguised by human bodies...

All of them are living their life: they love and hate, feel happy and sad – in a word, learn their lessons on Earth having their ups and downs...

Not every creature on Earth has a freedom of will but you do have it, my dear ones.

You are entitled with a right of choice that even I can't intervene in.

You are free to listen to your Soul that is my particle existing in every human being, which means you can feel and understand how you should behave in every particular moment of your life according to the Universal Laws watching everything around from God's perspective.

Be merciful, my dear ones, even to your “enemies”, for there are no true enemies on Earth but there are souls become astray, human and non-human, living beings with their feelings and emotions.

And even clones finding themselves in human energy space and perceiving how powerful are Divine energies generated by humans, dream of “rolling” in them, indulging in them and understanding what it feels like to be A HUMAN BEING...

Yet, accepting everything I spoke about above with all your heart and Soul don't get entrapped by reptiloids any more.

Be thankful to them for all the lessons learnt, for the lesson of Unconditional Love and acceptance of every living creature on Earth but stick to your way and follow it with no turning off and no looking back.

I bless you, my dear ones, and deeply love you!

ENERGY EXCHANGE BETWEEN A HUMAN AND A REPTILOID

Today I am going to tell you about the way energy exchange happens between a human being and a reptiloid.

To begin with, their chakra systems are quite different from each other.

Most of reptiloids live by the three lower chakras that help them to have their feet very firm on the ground and assert themselves due to it.

In other words, they are ultimately earthly creatures altogether deprived of heavenly – Divine – energy connection.

The three upper human chakras – the fifth, the sixth and the seventh - are inaccessible for them because of their reptiloid origin.

As far as the fourth chakra is concerned it is somewhat developed in some reptiloids but not to a full degree.

Their love is based on ownership and control in consistency with the programme imposed on them that is of division into “ins and outs”.

Reptiloid parents make the most of their energy and opportunities to ensure material security of their children and leading their upbringing and education the practical way.

The things are much more complicated if one of parents is a reptiloid while the other one is a human being especially in case of a child having two souls.

With the help of a mixed family like this we will study the energy exchange between all its members.

Let's start with parents.

While the family is dealing with practical household issues the energy exchange between the members at the level of the three lower chakras can be rather harmonious.

The 3D world energies merge penetrating each other and creating whole vibrational space.

But as soon as things, words and activities go beyond practical sphere there start energy confrontation.

Since a human Soul does Its best to “pull out” a human of the dual world and direct all their thoughts and emotions to another – spiritual – sphere, It irradiates energies of quite different vibration frequency discordant to the 3D world energies of lower frequency irradiated by a reptiloid.

At the physical level this confrontation shows in endless arguments, irritation and humiliating remarks – to put it shortly, in ultimate failure of understanding each other.

The reptiloid gets a feeling of losing control over their “better half” who is “in cloudland” speaking about the things incomprehensible for the reptiloid.

The reptiloid tries to bring them to reason and “back to earth” while the human in every possible way resists the suppression of their will and desires since their Soul wants to break free.

This brings about energy chaos that numerous astral beings of all sorts and levels are eager to take advantage of.

It happens, by the way, even if the participants keep silent while condemning each other to themselves.

Since every thought and emotion is energy there is a never ceasing “conversation” between them at the subtle level – at the level of their subtle fields.

The family gets seized by grief and fear, aggression and irritation, misunderstanding and sadness making the house attractive for astral “guests” and it becomes cold and strange for all its inhabitants.

In my next message I am going to tell you about the things that happen to the child – how two souls get alone with each other in terms of energy and how they interact with each of the parents.

A SIGH OF RELIEF

So, we have reached the most complicated point of energy exchange taking place in a child born from a reptiloid and a human and inhabited by two souls: a Divine human Soul and an earthly “curtailed” soul of a reptiloid.

In this case the energy exchange between a human and a reptiloid occurs both inside and outside.

This situation is consistent with the Universal Law “the outer reflects the inner”, too but it has double manifestation since each soul living in the child irradiates its own energy.

As a rule, it hurts both the child and their environment, for the energies inhabiting them are constantly confronting each other.

Reptiloid energy prevents the child’s Divine Soul from showing Itself to a full extent with It still being pure and innocent.

This vibration double-sidedness is especially painful for crystal children who are often born into families like this so as to gain unique experience of life lessons so hard to learn.

When in peace and harmony their two souls’ energies are in balance having some averaged vibration frequency due to which the energy background tends to be rather smooth and stable.

But with some external stimuli the energy backgrounds starts fluctuating and depending on the energies contributed to it either a Divine Soul or a reptiloid soul gets charged with them.

Let’s have an insight into the issue with the help of music that influences people greatly.

When a child or a half- human – half-reptiloid listens to hard rock or vulgar songs, in a word, to any piece of “music” of low vibration frequency a reptiloid living inside the human indulges in their native low frequency energy while their Divine particles “shrinks” because of the energies alien to it with the subtle bodies of the human getting dense to the utmost.

And the other way round, wonderful classical music and pure heartfelt songs featuring high vibration frequency influence upper chakras of the human resulting in their subtle bodies getting extended and adsorbing the Divine energy and the reptiloid soul is forced out automatically by that.

To make it easy for you to visualize this you can imagine two silhouettes with subtle bodies living inside one person.

The reptiloid silhouette is almost flat as it has only three lower chakras developed while the subtle bodies' volume of the human's silhouette is constantly changing depending on the energy they are supplied with.

The higher the frequency of vibrations coming from outside – from the people one contacts, from the books one reads, from the music one listens to, from the nature one enjoys – the more extended their subtle bodies get, forcing the reptiloid part out of one's aura that is “starving” with no low frequency vibrations so dear to it.

If one starts consciously living in high frequency vibrations tracing each one's thought, each emotion, each action and each reaction to the things happening the reptiloid part simply will not be able to exist in them since their rarified subtle bodies will leave no room for it.

It will leave the human forever and for good and the Divine human Soul will give a sigh of relief.

It is within your depth, my dear ones!

I bless you and deeply love you!

ENERGY INTERACTION BETWEEN A PUREBLOODED REPTILOID AND A HALF-BRED

Today I would like to explain to you the mechanism of energy interaction between reptiloids – pureblooded and half-bred ones.

As a rule, it is difficult for pureblooded reptiloids to get on well with one another since both their energy interaction and communication at the physical level is based exceptionally on exploitative treatment: each of them strives to get as much energy and material benefit from the other as possible.

Their life together turns into a real hell as each of them seems to fail in getting the whole lot from the other and they consider themselves to be deceived.

This is the reason why reptiloids are always looking for humans or at least half-humans as they have an endless source of energy they can feed on manipulating human conscience and touching the right chord, which they are really brilliant at.

It should be noted that reptiloids have highly developed intuition but it is the intuition of the earthly origin resembling that of animals’.

They feel their “catch” well – those who can provide them with never ceasing nourishment source: pure, faithful and caring people they can enslave in terms of energy and mentality.

This way they ensure uninterrupted supply of “food” not caring about the fact that their “source of nourishment” languishes both physically and morally.

And this is what happens when a reptiloid has a half-bred as their partner.

In this case a lot depends on which part of the latter is stronger: their Divine Soul or a reptiloid one.

Let’s see what happens next.

If the reptiloid part dominates it will fight for the Divine Soul from which it gets energy itself preventing another reptiloid from claiming its “catch” share.

It results in energy chaos and it is very hard for the Divine particle to draw the winner under these circumstances.

If the Divine Soul is really strong in this person It can overcome all hardships and obstacles and in spite of all the pressure inside and outside It will be able to find the way out to Light.

This is exactly what is happening to many people.

All the Forces of Light help them as well as the energies coming down from heaven and the knowledge being revealed to them.

All the humanity is being given a helping hand and each of you should make your choice: to catch hold of this “hand” and reach the coast of the new Earth or go on drifting along and throw your Soul to the wolves that are doing their best to retard your awakening from the 3D world stupor so as to keep afloat themselves.

I see that many of you have already overcome that stupor and have realized the way the things really are and, which is more important, haven’t become scared of what you have seen but accepted everything with Love and understanding.

I know, my dear ones, that there will be more and more people like this with every single day.

And it will occur due to the energy of high vibration frequency arriving on Earth these days as well as due to numerous awakened Souls delivering the mankind true Divine knowledge and information about crucial events taking place right now on your planet.

ENERGY STRUCTURE OF CLONES

Today I would like to focus on clones, to be exact, on their energy structure and interaction with humans.

These creatures, in spite of having the same appearance as humans, have nothing to do with them in terms of energy.

As they completely lack any chakra system it can be said they have no energy of their own.

They can't get charged with energy neither from the Divine source like humans nor from the earthly one like reptiloids.

So what do they live on?

Ultimately on your energy, my dear ones.

But despite reptiloids who can't stand high vibration frequency energy clones are omnivorous.

Their "batteries" operate on any energy – from the highest to the lowest vibration frequency.

What is the reason for that?

It is mostly because of the fact that they take in energy not by chakras that are the subtle sense organs both for humans and for reptiloids (though in a curtailed way) but all their being.

The energy they consume doesn't contribute either to their degradation or their spiritual growth, for it is simply the way to insure their survival.

This is why clones are socially rather active. They do their best to be in the thick of things in overcrowded places.

They join numerous clubs, parties, sects...

They attend various meetings, conferences, gatherings and manifestations, in a word, any occasions that are supposed to draw public attention.

Many of them strive for spiritual development being unaware that it is unachievable for them.

Mass meditations are of special interest for them as they supply them with huge amounts of energy.

As a rule, clones feel energy powerful people and try literally to “bathe” in their aura.

At the physical plane it shows as importunate style of communication that is difficult for a human to escape as they feel its artificiality but they often can't understand the reason of their enmity and rejection.

It should be noted that the majority of clones don't know they are clones and consequently can't understand why people instinctively keep away from them and avoid contacts with them.

But since they lack subtle sense organs they don't perceive the reaction of humans – they have no feedback and therefore they go on imposing themselves on them.

The one who has learnt to make use of one's chakra system can easily “unmask” clones in one's environment.

None of your chakras will react to a clone and you could just feel a gentle flow like a breeze along your body.

This is how clone energy shows itself at the subtle plane, the energy they accumulate wherever they can and on which they live.

I would like you, my dear ones, to have a clear idea that clones are not robots functioning on batteries but gene-modified living beings who, like humans, possess memory, conscience, their own character and habits but have no Soul.

The production of such creatures is the most serious crime committed by reptiloids, for it is perverted by nature and is a gross violation of the Universal Laws.

A HUMAN AND A REPTILOID'S CHILD'S BIRTH ENERGY PROCESS

In order to round up with the issue of energy interaction of humans, reptiloids and clones I would like to touch upon one more its aspect: a child's birth energy process with parents being a human and a reptiloid.

As I have already mentioned in one of my recent messages in mixed marriages like this there can be born a human, a reptiloid or a human reptiloid.

Everything depends on whose ENERGY will win.

If living together with a reptiloid a human is submitted in terms of energy a pure reptiloid is more likely to arrive.

If a human is spiritually strong their energy will force out the low frequency reptiloid energy.

If human and reptiloid energies are in balance there arrive half-breds.

Now let's study in detail each of the three variants.

It is common knowledge that a fetus inside its mother feels and hears everything going on around it.

But it occurs at the level of energies. It perceives vibrations of physical and mental condition of its parents who are energy environment for the child's ripening.

Sad as it may sound but powerful suppressive energy of a reptiloid can force the Divine particle out of yet unborn child's soul.

Even if it has already descended to this soul being weak and fragile it could fail to withstand a durability test so stern and come back Home to wait for another chance to get embodied on Earth under more favourable conditions.

If the human energy is stronger than the reptiloid one and is of vibration frequency high enough the fetus developing in native and familiar energies will grow into a valid human being.

But more often never ceasing fight for the soul of the child unborn is typical of the mixed families like this, which is painful for a little one who is not capable yet to express their free will and make their conscious choice.

Sometimes this confrontation can lead to unfortunate results: the fetus either dies unborn having failed to withstand the energy conflict or arrives possessing two souls that go on fighting after the child's birth.

By the way, everything mentioned above is true no matter who bears the child – a human or a reptiloid as the child depends on both the parents in terms of energy.

Why do I tell you, my dear ones, all this in detail?

Now when you have a clear idea of all the inhabitants of the planet I would like you to realize your responsibility for your future child.

You can lay the Divine foundation of your child's soul making it strong and developed with every single day or, surrendering the alien energies, farm your child's soul out to reptiloids.

Therefore, my dear ones, please, be very careful and cautious while choosing a father or a mother for your child.

Don't trust on fate but listen to your Soul and try to identify the vibration frequency of the person you are going to become partners with.

Don't hope you will be able to change the person you don't trust and respect to a full extent from the very beginning.

Let your marriages be really made in Heavens – in the highest frequency Divine energies of Love!

And I bless you for this!

HOW TO GAIN VICTORY NOT VIOLATING THE LAWS OF THE UNIVERSE

So, let's go on talking about your new conscience and this time let's discuss how efficient can it be in changing your own life and the life of your planet.

I see that many of you still feel unsure of it being possible.

But it is high time, my dear ones, to switch from theory to practice in earnest.

Now the future of the planet depends on each of you, for the confrontation between reptiloids and humans is increasing as ever.

And I would like you to understand where lies the border between your Unconditional Love to any living being on Earth and your right for self-identification that is, by far and large, your right for life.

I see that it is difficult for you to find the golden mean so as not to go to extremes and maintain high frequency vibrations realizing the danger you are exposed to by reptiloids.

So, how should you behave in a difficult situation like this not violating the Laws of the Universe for the highest good of all?

First of all, you should accept “the rules of the game” with no aggression and censure.

Reptiloids have been living by your side for thousands of years.

They have also become its integral part but their conscience has a consumerism programme imposed on it that applies to the planet and to human beings – its rightful inhabitants.

And while treating reptiloids as something unavoidable your task is to get the better of them protecting yourselves and your dear Earth.

They are supported by the dark forces and all the astral world, whereas you are supported by the Forces of Light and your Galaxy family.

The forces are obviously unequal, for Light always dissolves Darkness.

To make it happen as soon as possible the Forces of Light need assistants on Earth – the humans being embodied.

Fortunately, the number of the assistants is increasing with every single day.

Secondly, you should avoid direct confrontation with these creatures since they have in hand all tools of human control – authorities and financial institutions.

You can defeat them only IN TERMS OF ENERGY.

Do always remember that in spite of all their achievements and setting total control over humans in the 3D world in high frequency energies they become weak and helpless as they can't withstand them due to their “earthly” origin.

While you, my dear ones, have another – Divine – power which means your ability for Unconditional Love that is the most powerful energy in the Universe.

There coming a unique period on Earth: confrontation of energies not military forces, political parties or social revolutions.

The 3D world methods are not effective any more and provide reptiloids only with a short-term respite of their power on Earth downfall.

But so as to speed up the process of their physical plane demise each human being should raise their vibration frequency as much as possible and maintain its stability with no swings.

And finally, don't talk much about this especially with unprepared people but just quietly do your job unnoticed: maintain high vibration frequency and fill everything around with the Divine energies making the range of Their action larger and larger.

This is how you can oppose the alien influence of reptiloids on your life doing no harm to anyone and protecting yourselves and your native planet at the same time.

ESOTERIC WORLD AND REPTILOIDS

Today I would like to talk to you about how the information on the Ascension of Earth influences your conscience and subconsciousness.

The thing is that this knowledge is perfectly new to the humanity and a lot depends on the source it comes from.

While your conscience can change and transform the obtained information, it is typical of your subconsciousness to save certain patterns that are difficult to get rid of later on.

Why have I made up my mind to speak about it?

I see, my dear ones, that many people whose Souls have come to Earth to get the unique experience of the Ascension in their physical bodies are misled finding comfort in illusions and getting entrapped by the groundless promises unsuspecting people are excessively provided with by those least interested in their Ascension.

As it has already been mentioned in my messages about reptiloids and clones not only have they succeeded in penetrating this Divine sphere but they have also managed to head the process.

They were supported with enthusiasm by the astral beings of all levels for whom human vibration frequency increase, as well as for reptiloids, is a nail in their coffin.

And now the situation on Earth is taking a turn like this: alongside with physical actions of reptiloids such as vaccination, chipping and cloning of people there is also energy confrontation in the esoteric world where the Ascension is much spoken about.

Time-tested dual world methods are used for this – inflaming in humans all the feelings boosting their Ego: offence, jealousy, false pride, greed as well as taking advantage over their best features – love, faithfulness, trustfulness and responsibility.

Reptiloids' sophistication in methods used goes beyond all bounds as this time not only their plans for your planet conquering are at stake but their survival as well.

The bottom is falling out of Earth for reptiloids more and more apparently because its rising vibration frequency gives them no chance to catch up with it.

And now they try to wreck their anger on people who have chosen the Ascension by reducing their vibration frequency in any possible way.

And this is how it happens.

They neutralize one esoteric site after another, those focused on the Ascension itself.

It is sure to be done not technically but in terms of energy.

Touching the right cord of the people channeling messages from the Higher Forces of the Universe they collaborate with whole army of astral beings who inch by inch win back the energy space of sites that used to be so pure.

It is implemented in a subtle and sophisticated way. Flattery – the main helper of reptiloids in any times – is mostly used.

It is like a contagious disease that strikes both the channeler and the readers of the site.

The energy of flattery that seems to be so innocent at first sight possesses very low vibration frequency, for it presupposes separation and its derived energies of pride and worship.

Finding itself in the energies like this the source that used to be pure turns into a channel that the Higher Forces can't get any access to and astral beings take over it overflowing it with oily words that are so correct and beautiful leading the readers away from reality and preventing them from spiritual growth.

Here we will stop for today.

SPIRITUALITY FAKE

Today we will go on discussing reptiloids' impact on the esoteric world that with every single day embraces more and more human souls whose vibration frequency is rising together with that of Earth's.

It is essential to avoid the traps set by reptiloids even in this sphere of life that seems to be so sacred.

You have already been given a lot of clues how to tell the true Higher Powers messages from the false ones but the problem is that quite often visiting some sites featuring low vibration frequency you unintentionally get tuned to it and become unable to “switch on” your upper chakras so as to “scan” the information published.

You start managing it only by your mind. And in order to keep your mind busy astral beings dictating messages to the majority of channelers do their best to throw in some “sensational” facts and outstanding news – in a word, to decoy you by an attractive “teaser” to ensure you will not “get off the hook” and visit the site as often as possible.

Moreover, being quite aware of the fact that controversy rarely serves the cause of truth they encourage people to leave replies – rather contradicting ones at times.

So, since the sites are visited by very different people, some of them do this by accident being perfectly unaware of the changes occurring at the subtle level, the discord in taking the information and its interpretation turns into a real chaos that leads the people away from the Divine particle of the messages and makes them descend into the energies of low vibration frequency.

And it applies not only to indignant, aggressive or just silly replies.

It equally applies to smooth-spoken, flattering replies and those lauding the channelers.

While of real value is only personal painstaking experience one feels like sharing with others to contribute to their common life experience.

And this is what is really valuable, for whatever pure and wonderful the Higher Powers messages are, they are some kind of an ideal one should strive for.

But if one learns the same information interpretation made by a human being just like oneself, one will understand that everything spoken about in the messages really WORKS IN PRACTICE and one will perceive it in a quite different way: one's belief in efficiency of the messages like these will gain in strength manifold.

Do remember, my dear ones, you are responsible for every word uttered: it can either revive someone to a new life or breed apprehension, doubt and disappointment in them.

Every word you pronounce contributes its energy to the world filling it with the vibrations you generate.

Alongside with this, remember that one accepts everything you say according to the level of one's own subconsciousness.

That is why even the finest, "divine" and correct words said NOT FROM HEART but from mind may turn out as destructive because they possess vibrations of the dual world, the one that features division into good and bad, divine and not divine, right and wrong.

So, the desire of some people to live up by all means to the good, divine and right image often results not in true spirituality but in playing spirituality game and it results from the desire to rise in one's own and somebody else's estimation.

The spirituality fake prevents one from estimating oneself and others impartially and instead of growing spiritually one goes round in circles.

BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

Today we will speak about why the best intentions of yours sometimes have the opposites as their results.

Let's turn to case study.

Suppose, someone gets eager to break free from the usual routine of the 3D world life and they get interested in spiritual knowledge.

All this is so new and exciting for them. They start searching for information in various esoteric sources that nowadays are many in the Internet, on bookshops shelves and TV programmes.

Their Soul longs for providing them with the true Divine knowledge and tries to give them some signs. Their Guarding Angels and all the Higher Powers help it but... they go on living in the 3D world having at their every turn dangers and traps – the products of this world.

Esoteric knowledge has been sold and bought since long ago.

“The market” of this knowledge has been taken over not only by reptiloids and clones but also by humans who has the 3D world programmes well established in their conscience and these programmes are always maintained by the astral beings of all sorts.

They began to mass produce everything from esoteric schools and spiritual communities to numerous messiahs and prophets, magicians and conjurers, healers and teachers...

An innocent person can't sort through the tangle of the information.

One starts taking up anything one can get in attempt to find something that is near one's Soul.

But they can't hear their Soul yet and are trustfully looking for support on the side.

They are ready to pay money for being trained, enlightened, their extra-sensorial abilities being activated – they are so impatient to get access to eternal sacred knowledge and to feel really spiritual.

They are unaware of how subtle and individualized this process is.

Since living in the dual world people are used to relying on the opinion of a man with a big name, esoteric charlatans give themselves ranks and titles displaying numerous diplomas and advertising themselves in the most sophisticated ways.

Credulity of humans goes beyond all borders.

Eventually, giving their last penny they fall into swindlers' hands who actually open the channels that are far from being Divine but rather demonic ones because they can share only the energy they are rich in themselves.

Therefore, being under power of the astral world they get the one trusted them involved into this vicious circle blocking their way to spirituality.

Nowadays the process is appallingly gaining in scale.

Reptiloids' programme worked brilliantly this time as well: they make the best of both worlds depriving humans of their valid right for their Divine abilities activation as well as making them pay big money for that.

One of their most genuine creations is Space energetics that involves more and more pure human souls unaware of the pitiful consequences they are going to have later on.

All the Dark forces are working at making humans entrapped by quick realization of their material wishes to cut them off the pure Divine energies.

Do remember, my dear ones, the more expensive and complicated knowledge you are being imposed on is, the lower its vibration frequency is and the farther it is from being true.

Everything of the Divine origin is always SIMPLE, EASILY ACCESSIBLE AND FREE.

REPTILOID HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE ON HUMANS

Today I would like to reveal one more reptiloids' deed that few know about.

And we are going to talk about reptiloids' ability to affect humans hypnotically.

This ability is typical of only pure reptiloids, for they totally lack the Divine particle.

This peculiarity allows them to intrude into human conscience, which is one of the components of human submission programme.

They mostly do this unintentionally.

But if desired, so as to increase the hypnotic effect, they can use certain centuries-tested practices.

A vivid example of this is the Gipsies in whose bodies pure reptiloids often get embodied.

So, the Gipsies have become proficient in hazing and distracting human conscience in order to get what they want.

Perhaps, some of you have come across this influence in your life.

And this is how it is implemented at the energy level.

Since reptiloids don't possess any upper chakras and they can operate only with the three lower ones they generate their energies at the highest rate calling on the astral beings of the low level who hang on a human's subtle bodies and affect their conscience.

The centuries-old coalition of reptiloids and the low astral beings is based on mutual benefit: they feed each other with low vibration frequency energy and, in order to expend their sphere of influence, employ each other at the same time.

The representatives of this coalition create the situations that provoke humans into energy blowouts of low vibration frequency, which substantially replenish the energy stock of both reptiloids and astral beings.

Why is it the human energy that they evaluate so high?

The thing is that unlike their own energy “profile” which is rather dull and primitive, a human energy range is rich in various shades and undertones.

It can be said that feeding on each other’s energy, they get plain food they are tired of while provoking a human into a powerful negative energy blowout they arrange a banquet of a refined cuisine and lavish sumptuous dishes.

But let’s come back to reptiloid hypnotic effect upon humans and how it is implemented in practice.

You probably noticed a stony, hostile, not human-like look of some “people’s” eyes that is, as a rule, rather intent.

This way these creatures send their impulses to human subtle bodies and they upset their energy balance.

And if this look is accompanied by words humiliating human dignity hypnotic effect is increased manifold.

As soon as a reptiloid feels they have managed to break a human’s energy protection they start to pump the energy intensifying verbal attack until they get the desired – a powerful energy blowout.

After that, full and satisfied, they calm down until they become hungry again.

These are the energy details of reptiloid interaction with humans.

And I would like you, my dear ones, to know about this, so that you learn to create a sound energy protection in order to maintain your energy inviolability and vibration stability.

REPLACEMENT OF HUMANS WITH CLONES

Today I would like to tell you in detail about clones who are playing more and more essential part in life of humans.

It will not be an exaggeration to call clones' creation one of the most perfidious crimes of reptiloids against humanity.

While reptiloids possess souls though of not Divine origin, clones are totally human-disguised gene-modified creatures – biorobots.

Whereas I used to tell you about reptiloids cloning those of their own having an eye to the main chance, today we will discuss the reasons why they create a clone of already existing human being and the ways they do it.

To begin with, the object of their attention is the purest human souls who are of real danger for them.

What kind of danger is it?

It is about their ability to awake from the 3D world stupor and to lead others' way.

Do you remember the expression “they are a different person”?

And it has a direct meaning.

It is not rare that reptiloids replace the people dangerous for them, those who can change the world and the life of people for the better.

And the way they do it is really sophisticated.

Having obtained the human's biological material they grow an exact copy of the human in their secret laboratories and improving the occasion they physically eliminate the original replacing it with a clone.

Their family and friends notice the changes they don't understand but, as a rule, they find mere material explanations for the things happening: the awkward age, psychological crisis, problems at work, failure in private life...

The thing is that a clone keeps the memory and even habits of the human they are a copy of but since they are deprived of the main human component – their Divine soul, they start behaving a different way.

Moreover, they are absolutely different creatures in terms of energy.

Clones can't generate life energy themselves while human beings get it naturally from the higher spheres and nature.

By and large they are nothing but soulless dolls though unaware of it.

But unlike toy dolls moving being battery-powered clones can exist only due to human energy, for they are made of human biological material.

By intuition clones try to find humans with the purest and most powerful energy profile. And the profile like this is typical of children and spiritually advanced people.

This is the reason why clones are so numerous among teachers and educators as well as in esoteric – spiritual – world that the purest human souls are attracted to.

They skillfully penetrate the sphere and feel great getting energy from the pure source of the best human souls.

If they have failed to find a source like this they get satisfied with the energy of the crowd making the most of quantity, not quality.

Clones are great lovers and regular participants of public events.

They are omnivorous, by the way. Clones can be both fans raging at the stadium and “spiritual people” taking part in mass meditations and attending various esoteric classes.

Clones are not few in show business where they are easy to identify: their “art” is SOULLESS – it doesn't ennoble people but make them descend to the very bottom of the 3D world.

Here we will stop for today.

DISTINCT FEATURES OF CLONES

So as to finish the topic of clones, today I would like to tell you about one more their feature.

Since they don't know they are clones they are very surprised at the rejection they encounter from many humans who by intuition feel their soullessness.

It is especially painful for those who used to be pure human souls and who preserve the memory of their previous life and relations with family, friends and colleagues.

They are sincerely at a loss why their kith and kin's attitude towards them has gradually changed.

The latter often don't understand what is going on either – they just understand subconsciously the changes in this person.

The more they reject the clone, the more they are eager to be by their side trying to prove their decency and get back the relations that used to be so close and affectionate.

They try to be good, adequate, loving, caring and helpful with might and main but while it used to be expressed the natural way and the relations were based on the warmth of their heart and generosity of soul now it has turned into subconscious desire to stay in a close person's energy field and derive their strength from it.

A clone can't feel a feedback – people's unwillingness to communicate with them.

They stop at nothing imposing themselves on humans in anything literally hanging on them.

It is a means of survival for them and they don't care others feel ill at ease by their side.

My dear ones, you definitely should not suspect a clone in any unpleasant or imposing person.

Yet, there are some features that you are likely to identify a clone by.

First. They lack subtlety of perception.

Since they have some programmes designed-in by their creators they act according to certain patterns – with no shades and undertones typical of a human being.

They have a whole range of programmes designed-in depending on the aim of their creation.

For example, the clones introduced into the esoteric sphere are rather easy to identify.

Their eyes look “dead” with no shine or liveliness of perception. They are robots drilling their programmes.

When reading their texts or replies you feel them to be too right – black-and-white, soulless – they can't convey any energy a priori.

While you can feel reptiloids' vibrations at the lower chakras – up till the fourth one, clones can be perceived as weak involuntary energy flashes in the most unexpected parts of your body and sometimes in your chakras.

As a matter of fact, these are somebody else's energy bundles they live on.

Second. Clones are fond of all kinds of public events that are excellent nourishment sources for them.

They can't feel the chaos of crowd energies of various vibration frequencies, for any kind of energy is good for them and with the best will in the world they can't distinguish between low frequency vibrations and high frequency ones.

And third. Clones often rise from the rank in the sphere they were introduced into.

And it results from their being “led” by those they were created by since they are really concerned with clones' taking up leading positions and operating according to their instructions.

Clone bosses never have their own point of view and can't approach their work in a creative and constructive way.

They are just cogs in the reptiloid “machine” ruling humans in all the spheres of their life.

Here we will stop for today.

HOW TO BEHAVE TO CLONES NOT VIOLATING THE LAWS OF THE UNIVERSE

Today we will talk about how you should react to someone you identified as a clone and how to behave to them.

Certainly, by no means should you tell them they are clones.

Firstly, they will never believe you as they are absolutely sure they are humans.

Secondly, at best you will be accused of outrage on personality, at worst you will be considered insane.

Neither of the options will do you or the “human”- clone any good.

So, my dear ones, you should drive this knowledge into the background thoroughly thinking over the tactics of your communication with these creatures.

You should do your best to cut this communication as fine as possible with no offences made.

This way not violating the Laws of the Universe and accepting any living thing on Earth as having a right for existence you will protect yourself from the hostile intrusion into your energy space.

And now I will give you some advice on how to get rid of undesired communication with the least expenses.

Make the most of every opportunity to avoid meeting them with the help of any excuse or pretext.

The thing is that, unlike humans and reptiloids having a chakra system, clones are incapable of remote energy interaction.

They can “consume” your energy only being next to you physically.

If you can't avoid meeting a clone create the most powerful energy protection for yourself.

You will see how puzzled they become being unable to get an energy “infeed” from you.

They will not understand the reason for this but by intuition will start looking for another nourishment source.

And the last thing.

Don't try to explain anything to a clone – to put them on the right track, encourage their spiritual growth or teach them to live according to the Laws of the Universe.

Unfortunately, they are incapable of understanding this as they were created by reptiloids for totally different purposes.

Exceptions are clones of light pure spiritually advanced souls created to prevent them from developing and leading the way for others.

Many of them remember their “original” very well and search for spiritual knowledge out of habit.

But now the knowledge is also “robotized” and reduced to a certain pattern: they repeat the things learnt automatically using proper good spiritual words that, unfortunately, convey no energy.

And I think many of those reading the message have come this across surfing the Internet.

I know, my dear ones, all this is not easy to understand and accept but it is high time for you to know the state of things on Earth in the raw.

And just like rope walkers you should learn to keep the balance in any situation not to fall down to the 3D “abyss” at the supreme moment and safe and sound reach the long-awaited destination – the new Earth of the Fifth dimension.

COLLECTIVE CONSCIENCE OF PUREBLOODED REPTILOIDS

Today I will tell you about the collective conscience of pureblooded reptiloids that have been human conscience’s neighbour on Earth from time immemorial.

And its main features are as follows.

First. It has a well-established hierarchy structure.

62

It has already been spoken a lot in my series of messages on reptiloids that is why I am going to focus on the issues connected with their collective conscience only.

Under this structure all reptiloids’ on Earth subtle bodies are linked together by invisible strings and the programme designed-in generates in these creatures the same thoughts, emotions and ways of behaviour aimed at humans’ enslaving.

Second. It lacks flexibility.

While human conscience in spite of all reptiloids’ attempts to enslave it is capable of transforming, for at the subtle level it is connected to its Divine aspects, reptiloids’ conscience is totally beneath their masters’ foot.

They act instinctively since the majority of lower subdivisions reptiloids don’t even suspect who they really are.

And third. Its energy profile is stable.

And the reason for that is all this huge well-established net system always being controlled by their creators – the Dragon race settled at the subtle level of Earth.

As you already know, the limit of reptiloids' spiritual development is the fourth chakra but being deprived of the Divine support of the upper chakras it can only develop to the "animal" attachment to family and friends.

That is to say, under their origin reptiloids, unlike humans, lack any opportunities to develop spiritually.

Therefore, the collective conscience of pureblooded reptiloids has three lower chakras and two subtle bodies – the etheric and emotional ones – that are well indicated.

Their fourth chakra and the corresponding mental body are half-dormant just like many people's sixth and seventh chakra being not activated yet.

The "curtailed" variant of subtle sense organs is compensated by high concentration of energies in reptiloid lower chakras.

They are very health conscious with pronounced sexuality and take advantage of every opportunity for asserting themselves: to make a successful career and become wealthy.

This is what "lays the foundation" of their collective conscience.

And they are often to assert themselves at the expense of humans turning them into donors in any sphere of life.

They exploit human body, mind, heart and soul as well as people's inborn talents and abilities.

But reptiloids nourish on the three lower chakras energy provoking humans for blowouts of negative energies making this way themselves and their collective conscience stronger.

At the subtle level the collective conscience of reptiloids looks like a huge silhouette of a reptile with three dense brightly coloured subtle bodies – physical, etheric, emotional – and feebly marked mental body.

Here we will stop for today and next time we will discuss the collective conscience of half-breds – human reptiloids.

COLLECTIVE CONSCIENCE OF HUMAN REPTILOIDS

So, what is the collective conscience of half-reptiloids – half-humans?

As a matter of fact, it doesn't exist, for this phenomenon is too changeable and unstable.

“Half-breds” support both human collective conscience and that of reptiloids’ at the same time.

And the energies they mostly generate depend on which part – which Soul – is dominating in them.

Since now, in the unique time of Earth dramatically raising its vibrations, the human Soul also starts reviving and many “half-breds” manage to get rid of their reptiloid soul, so in this case they become a part of the human collective conscience.

If such creatures find themselves in unfavourable for a human Soul conditions with practicalness and really low frequency vibrations reigning, a human Soul can fail to withstand this energy attack and leave its physical bearer's body.

In a case like this a reptiloid in a human body supports the collective conscience of reptiloids with their energy infeed.

Yet, more often somewhat average happens: never ceasing confrontation of these two souls inhabiting a human reptiloid results in their generating different energies depending on the circumstances they find themselves or the mood they are in right now.

As any collective conscience is purely a bundle of energy and it is like a magnet attracts the energies of the vibration frequencies alike that in their turn under the law of attraction get distributed among chakras.

Still, three human lower chakras' energies differ greatly from those of reptiloids'.

They are qualitatively different as they are a part of another energy system where all seven chakras are connected to each other, which contributes to the redistribution of energy.

In other words, human upper chakras even though they are not activated influence lower chakras of humans all the same.

At the physical level it shows itself in that one can't “make one's way over corpses” having an eye to the main chance.

Their honour and dignity prevent them from violating the Laws of the Universe that badly even if they don't know about them, or forgot, to be exact, and their deep memory reminds about them.

In the material world it is called CONSCIENCE. Well, it is typical ONLY of humans.

A pure-blooded reptiloid is unaware of such a notion as they are guided by their Ego in any life situation.

While a human being even if they danced to their Ego's tune, usually regret this and suffer from pricks of conscience later on trying to correct the mistake.

This is why the energy of three lower chakras of a human and a reptiloid supports different collective conscience.

The contradiction is especially painful for half-breds whose physical bodies are arena for ever-lasting energy confrontation that often makes life of such creatures unbearable.

Such double personality often results in psychiatry disorders doctors can't find explanations to.

But if a human reptiloid knows who they are and realizes the true reason of the things happening, they can make their sensible decision and start supporting in terms of energy the part of themselves they have chosen driving a reptiloid soul out and turning into a valid human being this way or becoming a pure-blooded reptiloid sacrificing their Divine human Soul for the sake of their profit.

You are always free to choose, my dear ones.

COLLECTIVE CONSCIENCE OF CLONES

So, in conclusion we will talk about the collective conscience of clones.

There is certainly no collective conscience of clones as it is, for they do not possess conscience of their own but only the things designed-in by their producers.

Yet, there are some specific features in their behaviour that allow to single out some certain energy unities that due to high concentration of similar kinds of energy can roughly be called group conscience of clones.

And now we will study this in detail.

In order to identify what conscience group a clone belongs to it is necessary to know the purpose of their creation.

There is a variety of different purposes and here a lot depends on the way a clone was produced and what programmes were initially designed in them.

For example, clones initiated in test tubes and born the natural way often contain human depersonalization programmes.

They often possess attractive appearance that is too beautiful and getting older they do their best to make people look like them resorting to the help of operations and other artificial means of changing their appearance.

By this they destruct people's attention from real life values decreasing their vibration frequency to selfish desires of being attractive and beautiful physically not spiritually.

This group of clones makes up the group conscience featuring human beings' depersonalization.

The clones produced in secret laboratories and born artificially are, as a rule, introduced into society quite mature with clear-cut missions.

They can make cheap labour force, merciless murderers and, sometimes even groups of clones with specific social patterns designed to slacken moral principles of human society that prevent reptiloids from making their dreams come true.

A vivid example of this is migration processes taking place nowadays all over the world.

As a result there come into being group energy unities of workaholics, murderers and creatures threatening national interests of some countries and bringing in chaos and destruction.

The third category of clones substituting the humans out of favour of reptiloids are mostly introduced into the sphere of their "originals" whose shadows they become as they are deprived of their energy potential and the Divine Soul component.

So, for example, a lot of substitutions have been made in esoteric world and it leads the people unable to identify low vibration frequency pseudo-teachers to spirituality surrogate and consequently to decrease in vibrations.

Political circles are also rich in substitutions. The one and only goal that reptiloids pursued here is to substitute the unwanted humans with clones totally in their submission and ready to impose the policy aimed at the high caste reptiloids' enrichment.

The clones of these categories, in their turn, make up the collective conscience of pseudo-spirituality and the collective conscience of holding power and money.

But all these energy unities are weak as clones lacking chakra system and subtle bodies don't possess any energy of their own.

Their chaotic energy replenish with human energy can't supply strong regular "theme" group conscience, let alone the overall collective conscience of clones.

Still, my dear ones, you should remember that you can unintentionally become donors for these artificial energy unities alien to human beings.

Therefore, be attentive while analyzing your environment and try to scan energy profiles of everyone you have to deal with.

INTERACTION OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF COLLECTIVE CONSCIENCE

Today we will bring down the curtain on my message series on collective conscience of different living beings on Earth and study how they interact with each other and what influence they make on one another.

67

To start with, I would like to remind you that collective conscience of different living beings on Earth is quite an unstable phenomenon that changes every second depending on the energy "contribution" that a human, a reptiloid or a clone makes to it.

And sometimes its fluctuations can be really significant. It happens at the time of large-scale blowouts of some energy.

For instance, during the protest manifestation of many thousands even if its aim seems to be rather noble from the 3D world point of view, there occurs the most severe burst of negative discontent energy, which considerably reduces the vibration frequency not only of human collective conscience but that of reptiloids' and clones' as well.

While in an atmosphere of spiritual enthusiasm, for example, at a great concert of classical music with the audience being full of bliss energy the collective conscience is being replenished with high vibration frequency energies.

High frequency vibrations in this case, to be honest, are a relative notion as for each of the group – humans, reptiloids, human reptiloids and clones – there is a vibrational limit of its own: upper chakras – for people, the fourth one – for reptiloids, the fifth one – for human reptiloids and for clones with no chakras – dense energy bundles of relatively high vibration frequencies.

But every single living being also does their energy bit for their kind of collective conscience supplying it with some energy of this or that vibration frequency.

And this is how the interaction between all kinds of collective conscience on Earth happens.

It mostly concerns human beings, reptiloids and human reptiloids as energy interaction can occur only at chakra levels and subtle bodies corresponding to them.

The limit of such interaction and mutual influence is the fifth chakra that human reptiloids can reach.

It happens when different creatures generate energy of the same kind – negative or positive.

Any concentrated energy of the similar vibration frequencies supplies at the same time collective conscience of everybody involved in the process: human beings, reptiloids and human reptiloids.

So, unanimous censure of someone or somebody supplies lower chakras of collective conscience of all these groups whereas everybody's love and approval – the fourth chakra.

Therefore, when a human being generates negative energies they not only reduce the vibrational performance of the Higher being of human beings but also contribute their low vibration frequency to the collective conscience of reptiloids and human reptiloids strengthening their hands this way.

At the same time these low frequency vibrations are consumed by clones who make happy neither Earth nor people.

Reptiloids generating low frequency energy they mainly live on, also supply human collective conscience with them – those human beings who haven't recovered from the stupor of the 3D world and have ultimately material-dominated desires and needs.

Although they can't reach humans of high vibration frequency – from the fifth chakra and up – yet, the overall human vibrational performance is reduced because of their interaction with the unrecovered part of humanity.

I would like, my dear ones, this new knowledge to help you realize even more deeply your personal responsibility for pure human souls and your beloved Earth.

Give them only pure energies of Love and Light raising their vibration frequencies this way and bringing closer the long-awaited life on the Earth of the Fifth dimension.

I bless you and deeply love you!

WHAT IS A DREAM?

Today we will pass over to a new topic and we are going to speak about your attitude to the thing that in the material world is commonly called a DREAM.

This word so familiar that you seem to understand the meaning of quite well has a lot of tricks, as a matter of fact.

And the point is that in the 3D world with so many conventions and values artificially imposed on people most of you don't know and don't understand what your genuine dreams are.

You take anything for them but your own Soul's cherished dreams.

A lot of people come to this world, live and die under the 3D world illusion following all their life traditions, customs, fashion, habits – in a word, everything GENERALLY ACCEPTED which means depersonalized and imposed on you by others.

For thousands of years reptiloids have been doing their best to reduce all human dreams to the same level limiting them to “the values” that enable them to keep human beings under control – in total submission.

They take advantage of human weak points tempting and decoying them in “the traps” of wealth, power, voluptuousness, gluttony...

Endless “cakes and ale” has turned to something beyond one's wildest dreams for a large part of the planet's population and many acted against their conscience in order to get THE DESIRABLE.

People didn't realize that it was not actually their dream – this way they were manipulated by those who, unlike them, were perfectly aware of the things they want.

And the cherished dream of the reptiloids of all kinds was enslaving of humanity: human conscience, their Divine soul, their talents and abilities.

For all their dreams to come true they have to deprive humans of the genuine dreams of their Soul among which are freedom – inner and outer, development of one’s creativity, freedom of choice in all its manifestations, life in joy and happiness, not in submission and obedience...

So, from century to century people were offered more and more new “treats” with their wraps becoming more and more colourful and tempting.

Gradually the programme of endless material well-being pursuit has penetrated people’s conscience so deep that they started regarding them as being their own.

What about those who failed to succeed in life and whose desires remained unrealized?

They were considered losers with inferiority complex being developed as well as the feeling of rejection and guilt, which was also taken advantage of by reptiloids to a full extent who initiated jealousy, envy and offence in them...

They divided people into poor and rich, successful and unsuccessful, healthy and unhealthy, clever and silly ... and ruled in the dual world so familiar to them.

Here we will stop for today and in my next messages I will tell you how to tell your genuine desire from that one imposed on you from aside.

HOW TO IDENTIFY ONE’S GENUINE DREAM

So, let’s go on discussing genuine dreams of human beings.

To identify your genuine desires you should look at yourself from aside.

And this is how you can do this.

Try to estimate your place in the society and in your family.

Ask yourself: “Am I satisfied with the things I have and with the way my family and people around treat me?”

At this point it is essential to get the answer of your Soul not that of your human Ego’s that is insatiable indeed.

Not to misinterpret the answers you can make use of the good old chakra system.

Your Soul's answers will vibrate at your sixth and seventh chakras while your Ego's ones – at the three lower ones.

You can ask your Soul any questions but the point of them is to help you understand what the origin of your dream is, what it is based on and whether you really want the thing you are dreaming of.

My dear ones, you are already at the level of your spiritual development that enables you to realize that human life is designed according to one and the same centuries-tested pattern: successful studies, a prestigious job, a fortunate marriage, a big house, an expensive car, entertainment and travel with everything that it entails...

And everyone tries to climb up this “mountain” of social success at the top of which you will get the cherished material wealth...

Someone reaches the top first, others get stuck half-way and still others roll down to the foot of the mountain totally exhausted...

Yet, millions of people on the planet are persistently climbing up this “mountain”...

Have you ever thought about why the desires of millions and even billions of people on the planet are so unvaried?

And why are there so few people who are not interested in all this and who are happy and thankful for small mercies just NOT TO KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES?

They are those who managed to hear their Soul's desires and not to strive for their insatiable Ego's desires satisfaction.

They let themselves live IN AN UNUSUAL WAY dedicating their life to THE THINGS THEY PERSONALLY NEED AND LIKE not to what is imposed on them by society, family, religion...

They like birds born wild set off for free-flying escaping “the cage” of duality that the majority of people on Earth are kept in.

They are independent of somebody else's view, world outlook, judgement...

They have succeeded in hearing their own Soul's voice and gained inner freedom restoring by this their RIGHT OF CHOICE which is the Divine feature of every human being.

Look around, my dear ones, watch your friends, your nearest and dearest, colleagues and just chance acquaintances.

Feel what they are inspired by, why they have chosen this or that lifestyle, what their dreams and desires are.

Try to understand if they are initiated by their Soul or by their Ego that is powered by behaviour and mentality stereotypes.

You will be surprised to learn how IDENTICAL people are, to what an extent they are DEPERSONALIZED.

And then try to estimate yourself clearly, precisely and objectively: to what a degree you are susceptible to the influence of these 3D world programmes and whether you want to break free from this vicious circle – endless pursuit of the things imposed on you by the consumer society – this monstrous product of reptiloids.

Here we will stop for today.

“SPIRITUAL” DREAMS

Today we will continue speaking about your dreams but will focus on those of them that lie not within material but spiritual scope.

Unfortunately, even they have been transformed beyond recognition and sometimes you take as being yours the dreams imposed on you artificially from outside.

As I have already mentioned, reptiloids have got access, and in some cases, exercise control of spiritual development of many people.

They make use of their ability to manipulate human conscience here as well.

Therefore, even human desire to develop spiritually has also found itself in the duality trap as reptiloids have done their best to force this process into certain limits creating for people just an illusion of freedom.

They do this in such a delicate and sophisticated manner that human beings are absolutely sure of following the spiritual way of their own free will.

Just the way certain desires programmes were persistently inserted by reptiloids into human conscience in the material world, so controlled by reptiloids some programmes of human spiritual development are being inserted into human conscience nowadays in the esoteric world.

And this is how it is implemented.

They take as a principle fashionable teachings that are well known to everybody such as, for example, yoga, philosophy of Buddhism, Vedic knowledge and create new “synthetic” spiritual schools and universities.

And already existing teachings are often communicated to people being loose interpreted by latter-day gurus.

But these new “teachers” don’t tell people that this knowledge was suitable for the history period of its own as it was consistent with the vibration frequency of Earth and people’s conscience level of that time.

Nowadays with new high vibration frequency energies reaching Earth and encouraging mass conscience revival of humanity it is essential to make headway instead of marking time turning back to old teachings over and over again.

This way, unnoticed for people, their spiritual growth is skillfully being retarded, true current affairs on Earth are concealed and the fact that Earth is experiencing a unique period of its transmission to another dimension is being suppressed.

It results in a huge number of light and pure ancient human souls being misled from the path to the Ascension.

And this is exactly what they were born for and the genuine desire of their Soul is to make Transmission together with the planet Earth.

But being entrapped by various movements, schools, approaches they sincerely take their “teachers”’ dreams for their own and follow their instructions without a murmur not questioning their “gurus”’ competence and sincerity.

It turns out to be paradoxical: people searching for spiritual growth fall prey to the same consumer society, not in terms of material wealth though but in terms of spiritual “surrogate”.

Reptiloids have lately made amazing progress in this sphere since they learnt to use psychic methods of influence on human conscience.

This is what accounts for unprecedented fanaticism of different spiritual leaders’ followers: people live under THEIR thoughts and desires being incapable to identify what their own Soul’s genuine dreams are.

Here we will stop for today.

EGO'S INFLUENCE ON HUMAN SELF-ESTEEM

Today we will speak about the way human self-esteem is influenced by Ego that in the 3D world plays an important role in life of many people.

Why does this happen?

Before all, because Ego has turned into a survival tool in the dual world substituting Soul that didn't stand up to "the competition" and moved to the background.

Being at the subtle level it is so hard for Soul to reach out to a human being that lives in the material world.

While Ego exercises total control over human conscience as a full-fledged master.

Possessing low frequency vibrations of the 3D world Ego exists under its laws and it quite often asserts itself to the prejudice of other people struggling for its place in the sun in accordance with the laws being too far from the Divine ones.

So, what is Ego the almighty – the one that for the majority of people has turned into the main obstacle on their spiritual development path?

In fact, it is an energy substance artificially produced by reptiloids which is forcibly introduced into the subtle bodies' structure of human beings.

It is possible to call human Ego a means of survival for reptiloids who consume low vibration frequency energy.

The one with no Ego and guided by the upper chakras turns into "a saint" consequently depriving reptiloids of energy infeed.

This energy "modification" of humans was certain to be implemented little by little, for their Divine being didn't lose its ground straight away.

But reptiloids have gained a victory enjoying its benefits up till now.

And now humans have to make enormous efforts destroying age-old customs and traditions so as to return to genuine themselves – to regain their Divinity.

To make it happen they must get rid of their Ego that influences their self-esteem to a large extent either praising them to the sky or dethroning them depending on the life lessons being learnt and the manner they take hardships on the way.

Being a product of low energies human Ego is closely connected with the astral beings of all levels.

Yet, it also follows its own path of evolution as it is an independent energy substance.

So, a spiritually advanced person's Ego is out of reach of low astral beings while high astral beings still influence it.

A vivid example of this is people who switched over to Service but being influenced by the astral beings nourishing their Ego with pride and self-admiration energies they stray failing to manage their insatiable Ego that drags them back to the 3D world.

In the world of the Fifth dimension which, slow but sure, humanity is moving to, Ego will become an unnecessary rudiment, for Soul will eventually play the leading role there.

To take over Ego that reigned in the dual world and effected humans' self-esteem to a great extent there will come up their unique individuality showing itself for the highest good of all to their joy and others' delight.

Here we will stop for today.

MASS MEDIA'S INFLUENCE ON HUMAN SELF-ESTEEM

Today we will speak about the influence of mass media on your self-esteem.

It will not be an exaggeration to call them “weapons of mass destruction”, for they are really destructive for human Souls.

Newspapers, magazines, television for millions of people have turned into “trendsetters” and over the last decades they have also been joined by the Internet.

Being totally at reptiloids' disposal all the mass media impose on people the life style that meets interests of reptiloids.

In a cunning and sophisticated manner they thoughtfully form the consumer society guiding human conscience the way they need.

We have already spoken a lot about this but today we will focus on the energy issue of the process.

So, let's see what happens, for example, to someone watching “beautiful” life of the rich they can't afford even a thousandth part of.

Here a lot depends on their spiritual development level.

A human being with a wise ancient soul is perfectly aware that money doesn't make people happy and true tragedies can develop behind the beautiful picture and they have to pay dearly for the excessive material welfare.

That is why in terms of energy they are not affected by this: they are self-sufficient and quite happy with the things they have, so their self-esteem will not change.

What about a young and inexperienced soul in the same situation?

They will be severely attacked in terms of energy based on jealousy, envy, greediness and inferiority complex.

The more often they watch programmes and read articles about luring beautiful life the more sound position will get in them these negative energies ruining their soul and body ultimately seizing their thoughts and emotions.

They gradually become obsessed by the idea to get everything insistently advertised at every turn and in all the mass media: everything expensive, prestigious and in high demand.

They can't think about anything else but this and their self-esteem is totally determined by their ability to follow the lifestyle imposed by invisible manipulators of their conscience.

And if they manage to achieve the desirable level of welfare they regard themselves as happy people quite sincerely – their self-esteem will rise to the sky.

If they fail to do so they regard themselves as losers and feel they are in the others' opinion too.

Unfortunately, the overwhelming majority of people on Earth live this way – try to embrace the unembraceable and to keep up with the consumer society with all it has to offer in abundance.

And it is not till recently that high vibration frequency energies have arrived on Earth and started forcing out these 3D world energies that drive people to uncontrolled and unflagging consumption of all kinds of material goods and services.

People start thinking about other life values and it means estimating themselves they rely on quite different criteria.

And this tendency will gain in strength during coming years, for it is possible to survive on the new Earth only for those who will be able to transform their mentality and outlook from dual into unipolar to get resonated this way with the new vibrations of Earth.

RELIGION'S INFLUENCE ON HUMAN SELF-ESTEEM

And in conclusion, we will speak about the way religion influences human conscience.

Despite the fact that energy egregors of all main religions of the world have recently weakened to a considerable extent most people are still in the grip of religious dogmas still celebrating religious holidays and following the rituals connected with them.

Reptiloids are well aware of what powerful a tool religion is in controlling human conscience so they maintain, might and main, egregors of all religious confessions having this way conscience of millions of people in the hollow of their hands.

All through the ages there existed a firm belief that religiosity is an essential part of decency and following all religious rituals is a guarantee of spiritual purity.

As a matter of fact, this is how humans' conscience was enslaved IN TERMS OF ENERGY and how they were depersonalized with slavish psychology being raised.

Due to clear-cut religious rituals people are made to choose the style of behaviour based on obedience and submissiveness – just the things that answer the purpose of shadow world government.

High caste reptiloids, unlike people, realize quite well how powerful energy is so they try to direct it the way they need and religions are their first mate in this respect.

In the scope of centuries they succeeded to create a clear system of principles, customs and traditions that influence human self-esteem enormously.

Thus, the one zealously respecting all religious rules considers themselves to be an ideal of a citizen and is regarded the same by others so it means that their self-esteem is rather high.

While another one who for some reasons doesn't do so feels guilty and somewhat inferior which results in a dramatic decrease in their self-esteem.

In truth, both religionism and feeling guilty for not following religious principles have nothing to do with God as it is since long ago that human beings don't need any intermediary between themselves and God whose particle lives in anyone's Soul, consequently, anyone is a human God.

The paradox is that it is the true knowledge about humans that is hidden from them by all the world religions concealing their Divine essence, depersonalizing them this way and decreasing their self-esteem.

One aware of one's Divine origin becomes free from any religious dogmas and develops one's self-esteem on the basis of quite different criteria and, consequently, quite different energies.

Instead of slave-like obedience to God and ministers of church – the so-called “representatives” of God on Earth, they feel Love and Gratitude towards Creator for having His particle in them.

Their self-esteem is based on the feeling of responsibility to themselves and others for their actions and level of conscience correspondence to those of a human God's born on Earth in a physical body and for being capable to carry out the great mission they arrived on the planet for during the hard times of the Transmission of Earth and humanity into another dimension.

And all the Higher Powers of the Universe help them with this filling their bodies and conscience with the highest vibration frequency energies whereas people who remain within strictly determined religious patterns go on living in the energies typical of their faith's egregors that prevent them from breaking free from duality which lays the foundation of any religion.

Here we will stop for today.

FIND YOURSELF

Today I would like to round up with the series of messages on self-cognition and self-esteem.

These notions have a lot in common, yet, they differ at the same time.

While self-cognition presupposes work of Soul and getting to know oneself from inside self-esteem is greatly influenced by outside factors, which was spoken about in detail in my previous messages.

So, why is it so important to thoroughly get to know oneself – cognize and objectively estimate oneself?

To cut a long story short, it is essential in order to live your life, not anybody else's.

Sad as it may be, the overwhelming majority of people in the world live not their lives but those imposed on them by parents, society, religion, traditions, mass media, friends and relatives...

Therefore, from incarnation to incarnation they go round in a circle.

Their Souls don't get the experience They came on Earth for because They can't reach out to the persons who got used to live as others tell.

Reptiloids have managed in full to make their dream come true: to drive human conscience to submission.

But the current affairs on Earth really make them panic.

More and more people start to revive realizing that all this time they used to be entrapped by CONVENTIONS and lived not their genuine life but the one imposed on them from outside.

And new high vibration frequency energies do their job slow but sure.

Layer after layer they wash away the duality dirt off humans and they remember themselves real – free, independent, light and loving themselves and the world around them.

Having recovered from the 3D world stupor even those who haven't heard of the Ascension of Earth, start to feel physical and spiritual changes in the air.

Although they don't understand quite well what is going on with them the process of their conscience transformation has already been triggered and it is impossible to stop it.

So, the first step towards new life can be self-cognition and self-esteem based on quite different criteria.

More and more people stand out of the crowd that reptiloids so diligently have been driving them into for thousands of years.

These people start finding THEIR OWN PATH but to find it they should first cognize and objectively estimate themselves.

They start understanding they have come on Earth WITH A CERTAIN MISSION, not to live a standard life just like anybody else.

They start searching for their true destination and develop the unique talents and abilities they possess.

They start attracting their congenial souls who also dream of breaking free from the world with reigning division energies that have become alien to them.

Such kind of stratification of society is getting obvious though it happens rather slowly.

Unfortunately, money and power are still in the grip of reptiloids and they are not going to give them of their own free will.

Their recent attempts in keeping human conscience under control resulted in mass chipping of people that is being widely introduced right now in many countries of the world under the forced pretext of people's "convenience" and "benefit".

That is why I ask you, my dear ones, be alert and let only YOUR OWN feelings and views guide you in your life, not those ones imposed on you from aside no matter how "appealing" the way they are suggested is and how "wisely" the reasons are grounded.

And I bless you for this!

ADMIRATION FOR AUTHORITIES

Today we will also talk about the things that prevent you from acting in a confident way moving towards your Ascension and being completely dedicated to it.

One of them is your ineradicable habit to idolize someone – those who you look up at and whose lips you hang on.

This habit has been imposed on your subconsciousness for centuries.

In order to implement their programme "Divide and rule" all through the history reptiloids have been creating and "beefing up" artificial authorities in all the spheres of your life.

And since all the mass media have always been in their power these “authorities” are imposed rather vigorously.

People have got so used to relying on somebody else’s opinion they have “on authority” that they don’t believe themselves any more.

And these things still take place in the esoteric circles as well, which I have already told you about in many of my messages.

Pure human souls’ credulity sometimes goes beyond all borders and they are eager to follow advice of anyone who forcefully expresses their opinion with confidence generously giving advice on how to live and what to do, in some cases, even to complete strangers.

Well, their advice is certain to be helpful to some people, yet people are so different that it is just impossible to find a single recipe for everybody.

That is why all my messages answer the one and only purpose: teach you to be self-sufficient and responsible for your own life, trust only yourselves and listen only to your Soul making all the decisions INDEPENDENTLY.

So as to let you better understand how destructive idolizing someone can be for you I will explain the energy issue of the process.

In this particular case by the word “authority” I mean anyone whose “competent” opinion you rely on.

Let’s image the following.

You come to a lecture of a well-known and boosted in the Internet guru or a channeler who arranges their talk with the Higher Powers of the Universe “live”.

As a rule, mass sessions like this are usually arranged by people, more often NOT people, with very low vibration frequency but very high self-esteem charging fees at that.

Finding themselves in their energy field the audience gets severely attacked by the astral beings manipulating the channeler.

Any mass session organized by the “guru” turns into a real feast for them.

And this is the reason why it happens.

Since the audience unintentionally gets resonated to the energy wave of the lecturer and, consequently, to their vibration frequency, the astral beings, who feed on this kind of energy, are given full play, which means new sources of energy.

When the lecture is over people carry away these uninvited guests with them – in their subtle bodies – and they are quite difficult or, in some cases, impossible to get rid of, if one becomes a dedicated follower of such “a guru”.

You would be horrified if you knew how many light human souls have been misled from the straight and narrow by the people like this who are more likely to be authoritarian than competent.

Therefore, my dear ones, I ask you, please, each time you are overwhelmed by your curious mind and admiration for the latest “celebrity” remember the saying “You shall not make for yourself a graven image” and ask your own Soul whether this person is worth your attention or not.

REPTILOIDS’ AND HUMANS’ EGREGORS’ CONFRONTATION

Today we will go on discussing energy confrontation and this time we will speak about the way it shows itself in the society in general.

82

It is common knowledge that social stratification has reached its climax as all the chief resources of your planet are in the grip of a small group of people – the so-called hidden government.

It is them who dictate laws ultimately meeting demands of reptiloids in every sphere of human life.

In terms of energy long ago the concept of their holding power became a very dense mini-egregor impregnated with the lowest vibration frequency emotions.

On the other hand, the number of the awakened human souls is growing with every single day and their united energy is forming an egregor of its own – a new human collective conscience with such Divine energies as Love, Gratitude and Unity being its foundation.

Since the new egregor possesses much higher vibrations in comparison with the power egregor their energy interaction resembles the one I described in my previous message.

The reptiloids’ power egregor can’t affect new human conscience any more as it got out of hand and gained true freedom.

This egregor, like a stone thrown into emptiness, passes through the new humanity aura rarified to the utmost and moves on missing the target that from times immemorial has been in initiating fear and obedience in human beings.

While a human person obsessed by low frequency passions still can revive in the course of time reptiloids in charge of your planet can't do this under their origin.

Lacking the upper – Divine – chakras they can't attract the energies of Love and Light that fill the revived "silhouette" of humanity.

In this case their energy confrontation can't end in a draw: either reptiloids or humans should win the game.

High caste reptiloids, unlike humans, are perfectly aware that they will not be able to win the energy "game" so they are up and doing to reduce human vibration frequency to the level of the 3D consumer society as much as possible.

For this purpose they make use of all the devilish arsenal of chipping, psychotronic weapon, cloning, gene-modified products wide-spread all over the world, imposed vaccination, biometric and genetic passports and many other "scientific discoveries" concealed from you so far.

And in my next message I will tell you how to secure yourselves from their influence maintaining your vibration frequency at the due level.

NEUTRALIZING OF ALIEN OBJECTS' AND COMPOUNDS' EFFECTS ON CONSCIENCE

So, today we will speak about how to keep you energy space inviolable and protect yourselves from influence of different kinds of compounds and alien objects forcibly introduced into your body.

The first thing you should do is not to give way to panic and fear.

Even if it has already happened and you have found a chip in your body or undergone some biometric "procedure" you should know that it can be helped and everything totally depends on you.

The thing is that reptiloids and people acting at their command can't create anything beyond the third dimension vibration frequency as their habitat is the 3D world.

And all their innovations answer the purpose of keeping the overwhelming majority of the population within the scope of these low vibrations.

For example, why does psychotronic weapon affect some people to a great extent and doesn't apply to others at all?

It results from the fact that they can't "reach" these people's high frequency vibrations because the eternal and invariable Law of attraction applies to this case as well: like attracts like.

The people obsessed by low frequency passions are susceptible to mass hypnosis and are easily guided.

The spiritually advanced people exist in quite a different energy space that is why no psychotropic or psychotronic effect can be produced on these people.

The same applies to chips which are sometimes introduced into a person's body, with them being unaware of it because it happened during operation, for instance, when they are unconscious.

Despite the fact that any chip is a part of a centralized control system, the system itself, developed and designed by reptiloids, exists in the 3D world space, which means it functions under its laws and has vibrational limits.

Therefore, people resonating to the system's wave are easily guided and implicitly obey the instructions sent by those who the system was worked out for through chips introduced into their body.

As for those who broke free from the 3D limits and whose vibrations correspond to the fourth and sometimes to the fifth dimension, they remain inviolable: chips are powerless in this case and can't run the programmes compiled by their creators.

Chip neutralizing in this case occurs unconsciously.

But one can also consciously neutralize any alien intrusion into one's body calling on The Great Central Sun Energy.

This energy is so powerful that it can ultimately dissolve in itself all the low vibration frequency programmes and their components.

Yet, your best protection is maintaining your vibration frequency at the appropriate level as any energy "failure" makes you vulnerable to the danger that is growing more and more as reptiloids get a feeling of their power coming up to an end.

KARMIC TIES BETWEEN HUMANS AND REPTILOIDS

Today we will discuss if there can exist any karmic ties between human beings and reptiloids.

I know that this issue is of interest for those who realized that there are not only humans in their environment but reptiloids as well.

And this issue is rather complicated.

Karmic relations between people arise and develop at their souls' level in accordance with "the contracts" they draw with each other at the subtle level of Earth between their incarnations.

So, since reptiloid and human souls after their physical death find themselves in different energy spaces and can't meet at the subtle level it is impossible for them to write a tentative scenario of their life together on Earth.

That is why a strong and confident human Soul can sometimes choose an experience of life together with a reptiloid unilaterally.

As far as the latter is concerned, by origin they have the programme of searching a human Soul for a mate installed and they have to drive this Soul to submission, which is the main task of their life on the planet.

Such brave human souls are often born into mixed families, with one parent being a human while the other one is a reptiloid.

This way, since childhood and even since the very moment of conception they gain the unique experience of simultaneous interaction with a human and a reptiloid.

But let's come back to karmic ties between them.

In this case there arise karmic ties not between a single reptiloid and a human but between a human and the whole reptiloid race as reptiloids, unlike humans, do not possess free will.

They are parts of a huge ramified system with a well-defined hierarchy ruled by the high caste reptiloids.

Coming to Earth many of them do not know who they are because, just like humans', their memory about their stay at the subtle level of Earth between incarnations is deleted when they descend into their physical body.

Yet, their masters keep on guiding them through the life, so reptiloids' conscience is not free but compatible with the programme that corresponds to the hierarchy level of their stay on Earth.

Still, sometimes it happens that reptiloids get so “attached” to a single individual that in their next incarnation they try to find the human soul they loved that is now born in another physical body.

And in some cases due to their unbelievable intuition they succeed in achieving this.

But this is more likely to be a rare exception to the rule, so the issue of reptiloid-human karmic ties is rather a far-fetched one.

As for the human Soul that is destined to live together with a reptiloid, Its main task in this life is to maintain wholeness and inner freedom in spite of unceasing efforts of the reptiloid to deprive It of all this.

And if It learns the lesson well, in Its next incarnations reptiloids will keep away from It.

In conclusion, it can be noted that it is not karmic ties that arise between a human being and a reptiloid but energy interaction in which the former tries to raise reptiloid vibrations to the highest frequency possible for them while the latter does their best to reduce human vibrations as much as possible so as to consume their native negative energy.

In the confrontation like this the winner is the one who turns out to be stronger in terms of energy.

Reptiloids' main tool is individuality suppression and control while human beings' main tool is Unconditional Love and inner freedom.

KARMIC TIES BETWEEN HUMANS AND HUMAN REPTILOIDS

Today we will continue speaking about karmic ties and study the rare cases of karmic “knots” between humans and human reptiloids.

As you already know from my previous message series on reptiloids such creatures possessing two souls are rather common on Earth.

Their permanent inner state resembles what is called double personality since the psychological and, consequently, energy inconstancy of half-humans – half-reptiloids results in their being unpredictable – that severe is the confrontation between a human and a reptiloid soul inside them.

So, a lot depends on who is by such creatures' side.

There are pure and strong enough human souls who plan their incarnation on Earth for the sake of the souls who are entrapped in bodies like this.

Well, there can be karmic ties between them and strong long-term ones at that.

And the following thing accounts for that.

As one human soul neighboring a reptiloid soul in one body gets under another human soul's guardianship the former becomes dependent on it and understands it can't get rid of the unwelcome neighbour without its help.

Such souls often become partners in their incarnation and the energy interaction between them never stops.

As far as their children are concerned, it is essential that at the moment of conception as well as during all the pregnancy period it is the energy of Love that dominates – it is the only one capable to attract a valid human soul from the Heaven.

If it happens, the family energy profile will change to such an extent that it will be difficult for a reptiloid soul in a human reptiloid parent to survive in its high vibration frequency, so it will leave the physical body giving way to the human soul for good and all.

It also applies to the case with mother being a human reptiloid. Sincere, pure and unconditional Love of father can drive away the reptiloid part out of mother's body and during the conception can attract a valid human Soul of their child.

This is why, my dear ones, I tell you that much about ENERGY that not only creates your reality but also decide fates of people, ties and unties karmic “knots” changing your own life scenario and those of your nearest and dearest ones' in particular, as well as that of the whole planet's in general.

Sometimes a human soul failed to help the dear soul incarnated in one body with a reptiloid comes to Earth over and over again in order to liberate it once and for all since the latter, as a rule, is born to the same conditions but having gained some experience it is becoming stronger and stronger with every single incarnation.

I have told you about this, my dear ones, so that you understand how complicated and versatile the world around you is and how much depends on each of you.

Not everybody on Earth is ready to understand and accept the information so unusual for people but anybody can generate Peace and Quiet, Love and Harmony and these pure Divine energies will do the work that many of you are not ready to do consciously yet.

The greatest wisdom and the bravest Soul feat a human born on Earth is capable of is to live happily and jolly themselves and to share joy and happiness with anyone they come across accepting everybody the way they are, which means loving them UNCONDITIONALLY.

And I bless you for this!

ENERGY CONFRONTATION BETWEEN COUNTRIES

Today we will speak about energy confrontation between different countries.

And, for a start, let's see what lays the foundation of this confrontation.

Since any country has its own egregor it is possible to say that it is egregors that interact with each other.

The more ancient a country with its traditions and culture is, the stronger its egregor is and the richer and more versatile its egregor profile is.

Sometimes it happens that relatively young countries very quickly create egregors as strong though. It results from the fact that these countries' heads artificially create national ideas, common moral "values" and initiate fanatic patriotism, which generates low vibration frequency emotions that are very powerful at the same time.

These countries' citizens are forced into strict psychological limits and the majority of them, as a result, are at the same wavelength supplying their country's egregor with severe blowouts of similar energy, which creates an illusion of energy power.

A vivid example is the United States of America – a country with hardly any history and culture of its own, but it managed to establish control almost all over the world imposing on other countries its moral "values" based on money and power.

So, how do different countries' egregors interact?

As any country's energy profile is determined by the citizens' overall energy – its collective conscience, the vibration frequencies of different countries are different.

The basis for countries' egregors interaction is one and the same principle as for human beings' interaction.

The Law of the Universe “Like attracts like” shows itself here in the most apparent way.

Dense egregors filled with low vibration frequency energy interact with the egregors of the similar vibrations automatically supplying each other and multiplying evil on Earth.

As a rule, these countries' leaders get on well with one another as they operate on the common for them notions and principles of the international policy.

If they contact a high vibration frequency egregor, which means facing alien energies they find themselves in the situation of rejection and misunderstanding.

And there are two options here: either a heavy dense aggressive egregor is not pulled by vibrations to a light airy spiritual egregor of another country or tries to take over it transforming its light energies into dark ones.

Unfortunately, the latter is more often to win since national “interests” of bellicose egregors countries require more and more new markets and raw material sources. They also try to assert themselves at the cost of other countries taking their territories under control and making attempts to impose their own “values” on the local population.

To achieve their goal reptiloids who are usually in head of such aggressive countries do not neglect anything: lies, hypocrisy, bribes, flattery, piecrust promise and giving lip service.

In terms of energy everything comes to “submitting” the locals to low vibration frequency energies – so dear and welcome for reptiloids.

In fact, everything on your planet functions according to one and the same scheme designed by reptiloids long ago: to impersonalize and enslave all the countries and nations for the sake of a high caste reptiloids cluster that seized power on Earth.

At the subtle level their egregor that has been creating by them for centuries looks like a monster that puffs up with the egregors they have managed to supply with the same energies and, consequently, to reduce to their level.

Here we will stop for today.

ENERGY INSTABILITY OF COUNTRIES' EGREGORS

So, we have studied all the kinds of energy interaction and confrontation both at the level of human beings and that of countries' that is a combination of all their citizens' energy.

And now I would like to put extra emphasis on the things that happen within countries' egregors.

It is untypical of energy to be stagnant and it always in motion that is why the energy profile of people, cities and countries cannot remain the same.

And today we will speak about the factors that can essentially influence these changes – the way it becomes obvious even to the profane.

It is easy to trace the idea by the example of European countries that have changed beyond recognition over the recent decades.

It happened because in the countries that used to be so happy with their well-established customs and traditions, rich cultural and historical heritage, which resulted in their unique atmosphere they were the only ones to feature and relatively stable energy profile there suddenly poured huge crowds of immigrants with mentality and traditions alien to the local population and, which is more important, with alien energy.

And this energy confrontation within the country leads to these countries losing their faces dissolving in the energy chaos that arose.

This alien “invasion” began to ruin people's souls making them either disoriented and frightened or aggressive and irreconcilable.

Consequently, these countries' egregors started changing drastically filling with negative energies of all kinds.

Yet, other examples are recorded when crowds of immigrants enriched in terms of energy the countries they arrived at.

Thus, forced out of their motherland by the bloody revolution many Russian immigrants, people of high cultural and spiritual standards, contributed their purifying energies not only to European but many other countries as well.

The things that are going on in the world nowadays resemble a hidden energy war with many countries taking it lying down in the face of the invisible opponent.

And certainly there are reasons for the aggressors to turn up. They are well-calculated reptiloids' campaigns designed to weaken in terms of energy many pure human souls that are dangerous for them indeed.

Initiating in people energies of fear, aggression, rejection and censure reptiloids entrap human souls within low vibration frequencies scope where they can easily control them and prevent from gaining freedom and seeing the current affairs in the raw.

As I have already mentioned in one of my messages for this purpose there are produced whole armies of clones who follow their masters' instructions blindly introducing chaos and destruction to European countries that are dangerous for reptiloids.

Now people start realizing the absurdity of the situation and criminal activities of their heads leading them to collapse.

These countries' political circles witness gradual arrival of revived conscience people independent from the hidden government and they are the ones to become "the locomotive" to pull Europe out of crisis – financial, spiritual and moral one.

Here we will stop for today.

MAN AND EGREGOR'S INTERACTION

Today we will switch over to a new topic that is closely connected with the previous one but reveals it from a different angle.

And the issue under discussion will be energy flow from man to egregors and backwards – from egregors to man.

This process is unceasing and sometimes it can be rather complicated since one and the same person can supply with energy several egregors at the same time and get energy from each of them at that.

The older one gets the closer their relations with egregors are – state, religious, professional, family one...

It is accounted for by the fact that in the course of time they build up their own well-established view on every sphere of life, which means energy stability that contributes certain type of energy to a certain egregor.

It is by means of energy of the same kind generated by huge amounts of people that egregors come into being.

And there is a wide range of them – depending on what they are based on.

So, even a certain country's egregor can comprise a lot of mini-egregors sometimes of mutually exclusive energies.

Why does this happen?

First of all, it has to do with the introduction into human conscience of certain ideas that are beneficial to some circles of high and mighty.

For example, one segment of population can generate patriotism energy being proud of their country while another one severely criticize and compare it with other more developed countries where people seem to lead a happier life.

The same applies to religion – some people are fanatic in their belief in God while others are out-and-out atheists.

Professional sphere and scientific circles in particular feature energy chaos as everyone thinks they are right persisting in their opinion and completely rejecting that of others'.

So, even these mini-egregors lack energy unity, which is actually natural as, and you already know it, energy constantly undergoes modifications being always in motion.

But the point is what way it is changed and what vibration frequency is typical of it.

If energy confrontation between people supplying one and the same egregor is characterized by aggression, jealousy and censure energy – in a word, any type of negative energy, this egregor filled with separation energies bring them back to the same people encouraging this way the circle of low vibration frequency energy.

So, how can the vicious circle be broken?

One and only way: by learning to respect other people's opinion, accept them as they are, not to return offence for offence and generate Peace, Love and Harmony wherever you are.

By doing this you will not only change the energy profile of your home, work and town but also contribute pure and light energy to mini-egregors and your country's egregor in general and this energy will return a hundredfold to people decreasing the degree of tension in all spheres of life.

Do always remember, my dear ones, that the energy of Love and Light is hundreds of times as strong as any negative energy just because of its vibrations.

It is more rarified and can absorb and dissolve huge amounts of negative energy.

It always gains a victory in the unavoidable energy confrontation typical of the dual world, even if the victory seems to be won by the dark forces at first sight.

And nowadays each Love energy blowout of yours is immediately caught up by your heavenly helpers and increased many times due to the fact that Earth energy space itself possesses quite different vibration frequency now.

Here we will stop for today.

GET AT THE WHEEL

Today I would like to draw some kind of a conclusion to my previous messages on energy confrontation.

As you have probably understood, confrontation as such is typical of people and countries of low vibration frequency energy.

Their dense dark pressed energies are impervious to Light.

They are covered in these low frequency energies like in “armour” and anything inconsistent with them makes them furious.

While a human being or a country of high frequency energy profile generates Love and acceptance and conscience of such a human being or country’s collective conscience is not susceptible to the influence of low vibration frequency energies.

Yet, while you are still living in the 3D world it is impermissible for Light Souls to relax completely and let things drift.

It is high time to think not only about yourselves but about those you can rescue as well – save from the destructive effect of negative energies that reign literally in any sphere of human life.

So, what does your role of rescuers presuppose?

Unlike common people you know what and why is going on the planet nowadays.

You consider all your life’s and country’s events from the point of view of the Laws of the Universe.

You understand the tricks of high and mighty designed to hold people's conscience within the limits of duality and hide from them the global changes taking place on Earth.

You watch the world in a different way understanding what is hidden behind an attractive facade.

And now, my dear ones, you will have to assume the role of "a tutor" for the souls not fully revived but on the way to revival, so only you can open their eyes to the current events on the planet since almost all governments keep silent.

And this "conspiracy of silence" is not by chance.

Reptiloids and others with them at the controls are not going to give them of their own accord to those who will open the energy "dungeon" and set free the Divine human conscience that has been forced into "the cage" of duality for centuries.

You can by the power of thought and Spirit take over them in terms of ENERGY and get at the wheel of your beautiful planet "ship" and turn it towards Light – to the energy space of the Fifth dimension.

Wisely and calmly, with no excessive enthusiasm or haste explain to the people ready to hear you that humanity has reached the critical point of its development: both your planet and man as a unique Divine creation are endangered now.

In a persuasive reasonable manner making use of real-world examples you should tell people about all the tools used by the officials of the majority of the countries to totally enslave man intruding into the holy of holies – human Soul, conscience, DNA endangering human free and independent existence.

You should ask for help all the Higher Powers of the Universe to guide and protect you preventing you from "falling out" of high vibration frequency energy stream, which will not only assist you in being up to the mark but also will liberate that person's conscience from 3D world programmes and reveal their underlying memory of their Divine origin.

And I bless you for this!

Loving you endlessly Father-Absolute spoke to you.
